MAYOR'S LOSS IS FELT OVER WHOLE NATION

Republican National Convention Delegates from Illinois Sure for Lowden

WATCH SMITH DEFEAT State Vindicates Senate's Action in Twice Rejecting Would-be Senator

Washington—Although the issues in Illinois were actually local, there is no doubt that the defeat of Mayor Thompson will have a significance in national politics.

It means for one thing, that the Republican delegation to the national convention in Kansas City will be for Governor Lowden first and second for Vice-President Davies, depending upon which favorite son develops the greater strength in other states of the union.

The fact that Mayor Thompson attached himself to the "draft Coolidge" movement will not affect that activity in other states inasmuch as the effort of the Chicago mayor was palpably to coral votes from strong Coolidge supporters.

The groups, on the other hand, who are interested in seeing Mr. Coolidge re-nominated are just the people who would ordinarily be opposed to Mayor Thompson's administration. They would not vote for Mr. Thompson as a delegate to Kansas City because of their local objection to him. Thus the national issue is to a large extent incidental in the Illinois election insofar as the nomination conventions are concerned.

The biggest and most outstanding result, however, which attracted the attention of official Washington was the defeat of Frank L. Smith for re-nomination. It had been supposed that the voters of Illinois resented the action of the senate in refusing to admit Mr. Smith and that a sovereign state now would express its protest. The fact that the republican voters of Illinois rejected Mr. Smith on the very issue that the senate of the United States raised is regarded as a vindication of the senate's viewpoint. Also it removes an embarrassing situation which might have been connected with the election in the next session if Mr. Smith had been re-nominated and re-elected. In Illinois the republican nomination for United States senator is usually equivalent to an election. Hence the elimination of Mr. Smith on Tuesday is considered final.

It is being expected now that what happened in Illinois may have some effect in Pennsylvania. While so far as the senate is concerned the same basis, the voters in Pennsylvania save excessive expenditures by all candidates, whereas in Illinois the question turned on the source of the campaign contributions. Mr. Fare has a tighter hold on the voters in Pennsylvania than Mr. Smith had in Illinois. If he should be re-elected, however, it would undoubtedly mean much more in his favor than if the Illinois election had not occurred. In other words, the argument that the electorate does not approve a case like that of Frank L. Smith is being made.

DEMAND VOTE RECOUNT IN GREEN-CO BATTLE

Monroe—(P)—A writ of mandamus was to be served on the Green-Co board of election canvassers Thursday by Roman Hillman, Madison, counsel for R. L. Marcus, defeated candidate for the Republican national convention delegation from the Third district, the former declared Thursday morning.

GIVE RIGHT OF WAY TO FLOOD RELIEF MEASURE

Washington—(P)—Right of way in the senate House of Representatives was given Thursday to the bill which would be called up on the floor not later than next Tuesday.

HOOVER GAINS DELEGATES IN NORTH CAROLINA

CHICAGO MAYOR WON'T HOLD TO ELECTION WORD

Thompson Decides Not to Resign Though Crowe Lost; Emmerson Continues Gain

Chicago—(P)—No matter how severe the hailstorm drubbing administered to his "America First" ticket in Tuesday's statewide primary election Mayor Thompson has no intention whatever of resigning.

"Why Should I Resign?" he asked when the question was pressed by newspapermen.

The question arose through a campaign statement in which the mayor was quoted as saying that he "might" resign if the Thompson candidate, State's Attorney Crowe, failed to win Republican renomination. He failed.

Two investigations of campaign bombings, slaying(Thuggery and irregularities were being discussed Thursday.

The office of County Judge Jarecki, in charge of election machinery also was investigating individual cases of reported voting fraud.

Full significance of the defeat suffered by Thompson-Small-Crowe Republicans in the primary was measured Thursday in the light of returns which constantly added to the unexpectedly large pluralities of their opponents.

Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, although not a candidate, was given a thumbs down even more positive than his most optimistic enemies predicted. Candidates who ran under the Thompson "America First" banner and who received the support of the Thompson Republican organization were beaten, with a few minor exceptions.

Gov. Len Small, who headed the Thompson slate and sought renomination for a third term, suffered one of the most devastating defeats ever recorded in an Illinois gubernatorial primary. Louis L. Emmerson, secretary of state, won the nomination by more than 400,000 votes.

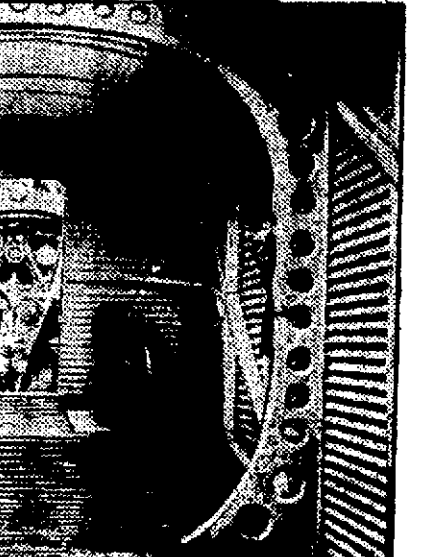

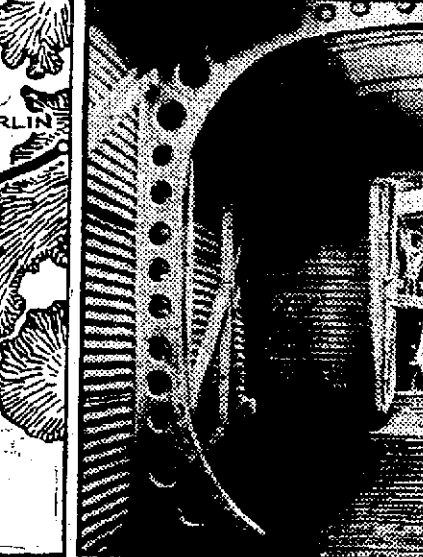

Frank L. Smith, seeking to re-travel the road that took him to the doors of the United States senate only to find them closed and bolted, went down with the Small-Thompson organization, the nomination going to Otis Glenn, an attorney by a plurality of approximately 227,000.

Oscar E. Carlstrom, re-nominated for state attorney general, stood ready to come into Cook-co Chicago and impel a special grand jury to look into allegations that crime and politics have worked together. He would require a petition before he would act, however, he indicated.

GERMAN PLANE STARTS FOR AMERICA

After a wait of over two weeks caused by bad weather conditions, the German Junker plane Bremen (above) which recently jumped secretly from Berlin to Dublin, left Ireland Thursday morning for America. The trans-Atlantic flight of some 3,000 miles, if successful will bring the ship to Mitchell field, New York, early Friday afternoon. Captain Herman Koehle (right) German war ace will alternate at the pilots with Colonel James Fitzmaurice, head of the Irish Free State air force and Baron Von Huenefeld, sponsor of the trip, will handle the fuel, cook and keep log.

TAKES THREE OF FOUR MEN FROM LOWDEN

Assistant Attorney General of Drys Gives Commerce Secretary Strong Boost

Washington—(P)—Presidential politics were forced into the background Thursday as far as any delegate-choosing was concerned, but rumbling of prospective convention contests and the falling in line of additional party workers behind candidates on both tickets served to keep interest alive.

Thursday was an off-day in the week's congested primary and state convention calendar. Wednesday was almost as devoid of such activity, North Carolina being the only state to select delegates. Hoover claimed three of the four delegates at large chosen and Lowden, runner-up to the commonwealth secretary in the race for the Republican nomination, the other.

Hoover's bid for the nomination at Kansas City received another boost Wednesday. Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, coming out for him because, she said, he was "the answer to those who said prohibition could not be enforced."

DANIELS FOR WALSH
One of the Democratic Walsh, of Montana, also took on another leading party follower Wednesday. Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy under President Wilson, declaring in a telegram to John R. Elliott of Los Angeles, that Walsh was the "finest man in America for the Democratic standard bearer."

Still another Wilson man, Edwin T. Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture, entered the Democratic pre-convention spotlight Thursday, with another Baltimore statement bearing on the fight in his state April 10, for Iowa's 20 delegates to Houston.

MEREDITH MAY APPEAL
Reiterating his belief that the dry forces in Iowa will win the majority of this block of delegates "unless the political tricks and unfairness of the Smith people succeed," Meredith, a "favorite son," said he would appeal to the national convention if the New York governor comes out on top in his state.

He said the Smith forces in two districts normally his (Meredith's) walked out of their regular county caucus held separate conventions and "hope by these tactics to control the committee on credentials in the Iowa state convention."

Willard W. Marsh, former Democratic national committeeman from Iowa, in a statement issued at Waterloo, held out little hope for Meredith in the state convention. He said a recapitulation of the votes of delegates to that meeting revealed that Senator Reed of Missouri, and not Meredith, was the real contender against Smith for Iowa's 20 votes.

Reed, in his second swing around the country to further his candidacy by speech-making, went to Indianapolis Wednesday night and seized upon the Illinois primary result as showing an awakening to the need for a thorough house-cleaning in politics.

What happened in Illinois, he said, "is a preview of what will happen in the United States next November."

HEAR STEPHENSON IN KU KLUX KLAN TRIAL

Pittsburg, Pa.—(P)—Hearing on the indictment of the Ku Klux Klan against five ousted members proceeded in federal court here Thursday with the reading of a deposition by D. C. Stephenson, former Klan leader of Indiana who is now serving a life term in that state for the murder of a woman.

Having thrown out the counter suit of the former members, who sought to restrain the Klan from operating in Pennsylvania and asked for a restraining order and an injunction to prevent them from interfering with the Klan and conducting initiations.

Barrickman proceeded to read sections of the deposition bearing upon the suit of the Klan, which seeks $500,000 damages from the five former members and an injunction to restrain them from interfering with the Klan and conducting initiations.

Some 40 persons were injured. The bomb was placed at the foot of a lamppost in the Piazza Giulio Cesare and exploded with terrific force.

PLANE BREMEN STARTS 3,000 MILE JOURNEY

Heavily Laden Ship Has Trouble Rising but Finally Heartens Spectators

PERFECT AIR WEATHER Essay Feat at Which Seven Aviators Have Lost Their Lives Since Last May

Baldonnel Airplane, Irish Free State—(P)—Bearing the aspirations of two nations for trans-Atlantic flying honors, the silver-grey German monoplane Bremen sped westward Thursday on what was hoped to be the first spanning of the Atlantic from east to west by Airplane. Essaying the same feat seven aviators have lost their lives since last May.

Terror-stricken spectators watched the heavily laden plane speeding along the runway but failing to rise at first. After running 900 yards the plane took the air at 5:35 A. M. (11:38 Central Standard time). The flight of some 3,000 miles, if successful, is expected to terminate at Mitchell field, New York, early Friday afternoon.

Two hours after the start the Galway coast guards saw the Bremen going well out over the Atlantic and headed in a northwesterly direction. The coast guard saw the plane passing over Costello, Galway, at 7:05 having traveled the 100 miles between Baldonnel and that point at the rate of about 100 miles an hour.

At the controls were Captain Herman Koehle, German war flyer and night flying expert, and Colonel James Fitzmaurice, commandant of the Free State air force, who will alternate as pilots at four hour intervals. Behind them sat Baron Ehrenfried Guenther Von Huenefeld, his last planning staked on this venture during which he will man the fuel pump, cook and keep the log.

Never had the plane been tested with its full load of 2,500 litres of fuel and a peculiar undercarriage until it started up the sloping runway. Fifty men armed with axes, saws, crowbars and fire extinguishers, were ordered to their stations along the runway ready to jump into immediate action should disaster occur.

Spectators, including President Cosgrave and other free state notables, had a minute of heart breaking agony as the Bremen made its first mad rush along the runway. The machine was shrouded in a cloud of dust, swirling from the road behind the starting point, up the slope it raced to the crest at the 600 yard mark where it was calculated that it should take the air. Then the plane started careening down the slope on the other side and disappeared from the view of watchers at the starting point.

Men who fly and men who know flying were frightened, for failure to take off meant a crash and almost certain death for the trio encased in the all-metal machine.

At 90 yards the Bremen's wheels left the ground. The undercarriage under the tail whirled away like a runaway cart. Still the plane barely skimming the ground and roaring along at 90 miles an hour toward a stone wall at the end of the airfield.

Under the cool control of Captain Koehle, who had said that the take-off was one of the most perilous parts of the flight, the plane headed for a breach made in the wall for the take-off. The Bremen shot through safely.

"If the wall had not been demolished the Bremen would have crashed; it was terrible," said Colonel Charles Russell, former chief of the Surete Nationale and a close friend of Fitzmaurice.

After seconds that seemed like hours the silver wings appeared above the horizon and men, women and soldiers, knowing the Bremen was in the air cheered wildly.

MANY NOTABLES
From midnight on notables and special guests arrived at Baldonnel from Dublin. It was still dark when the plane was rolled from the hangar, a shostlike shape surrounded by a cordon of soldiers. It was fully fueled and ready to start.

Captain Koehle was the first to appear at breakfast at the officers' mess. Then came Baron von Huenefeld with his monocle. He ate a hardboiled egg. Captain Koehle had hardly finished breakfast when he left the mess wearing his big old grey German coat and a flying helmet to superintend the tuning up.

Fitzmaurice was like a spirited school boy. He walked from group to group laughing and joking with his many friends as if he were on a lark. In one group there stood a figure for whom there was no lack, however, of tragedy showed in the face of Mrs. Fitzmaurice as the Colonel kissed her good bye. She turned away in tears.

Washington—(P)—On the basis of present forecasts, the German plane Bremen is due to buck unfavorable weather on the western side of the Atlantic.

PUNISH MEN WHO LYNCH, BERGER PLEA

Badger Representative Proposes Drastic Prosecution for Rope Slayers

Washington—(P)—Prosecution by the federal government of citizens and officials who have any part in lynching is proposed in a bill drawn for introduction in the house Thursday by Rep. Victor L. Berger, Wisconsin.

Under the terms of Berger's bill, citizens would be liable to five years imprisonment and $5,000 fine for taking part in a lynching mob, and police officials who "deliberately fail to take necessary precautions to prevent lynchings" would be liable to twice that penalty.

Communities in which lynching occurred would forfeit $10,000 for each lynching.

In a statement, Mr. Berger charged that the Republican party failed to keep a pledge it had made that during the four years since the pledge was made, "73 were killed by lawless mobs."

"This betrayal of those whose votes the Republican leaders obtained by making this platform pledge is an encouragement to lawless communities to continue the practice," Berger said.

"In 1918, 16 people, entitled to the protection of our laws, were lynched, seven of them in the state of Mississippi alone, which holds the record for the year. The first duty of a government is to maintain the authority of its laws over the territory it governs. That duty our government has failed to perform."

"While thousands of people are being paid to spy on those of their fellow citizens who may be taking an occasional drink, and millions of dollars are being spent annually to deal with this petty lawlessness, not an effort is made to punish acts which bring injury and death to people, many of whom are innocent, and all of whom are entitled to protection under our constitution."

BROTHERS CONFESS MURDER OF ENEMY

Mosinee Youths Had Intended to Merely "Beat Up" Man

Wausau—(P)—Confession that they killed Roy Gardner of Mosinee on April 1 by assaulting him has been made by Ben and Frank Scheffler, brothers of Mosinee, District Attorney Gerald J. Bollen announced Thursday.

The Scheffler brothers are being held on a warrant charging second degree murder. They had been missing since Gardner's body was found on a little used road near Mosinee and were captured in a deserted shack near the town of Halsey, Wis., late Wednesday.

The brothers said they had not intended to kill Gardner but only to "beat him up" because they thought he was "making trouble" for them. They fled after they had assaulted him because they did not want to be arrested and have to pay a fine, they said. Then when they learned that he was dead, they were afraid to come back.

The men have not yet announced whether or not they will plead guilty, the district attorney said.

MEXICAN WOMAN LEADS TROOPS AGAINST FEDS

Mexico City—(P)—A dispatch to El Universal Thursday said that a woman named Agripina conferred upon herself the title of colonel and followed by 150 men took the field against the government in the district of Colima, state of Queretaro.

Agripina, anxious to turn her forces from infantry into cavalry, attacked Los Lobos ranch and seized 20 horses. She marched toward Guanajuato and from there it was reported that she was threatening a ranch at Chichimiquilaz.

FIVE KILLED WHEN TWO PLANES DIVE

Military Flyers Lose Lives in River; Others Crash on Plains

Baton Rouge, La.—(P)—Lieutenant Kenneth Boyd, Washington, D. C., and Corporal Ernest F. Koch, Van Meter, S. D., were killed Wednesday when an airplane in which they were flying nose-dived 1,200 feet into the Mississippi river. The aviators jumped from the falling plane, witnesses said, but were too near the earth to make use of their parachutes. Engine trouble was believed to have caused the accident.

The flyers were enroute from the attack group field at Galveston, Tex., to Edgewood Arsenal, N. D.

As the plane passed over the Mississippi river it was apparent that the flyers were having some difficulty. Suddenly the plane nosed down sharply and went into a dive. The aviators jumped and Lieutenant Boyd met instant death when he hurtled to the river bank. Corporal Koch fell into the water and his body was recovered a short time later.

COWBOYS FIND BODIES

Kent, Tex.—(P)—An attempt of three men to fly across this plains country proved fatal to all when their plane crashed at an isolated spot south of Kent.

Cowboys found the bodies in the wreckage of their cabin type monoplane Wednesday. The men were identified as E. L. Drew, Fort Worth, Texas; E. M. Lawson, deputy United States marshal, Miami, Okla.; and Edward G. Knapp, Muskogee, Mich., pilot.

London—(P)—A dispatch from Lugano, Switzerland, stated that a powerful bomb was found on the railway line over which Premier Mussolini's train was to pass on his recent return to Rome from Milan. A man hiding near the track was arrested.

Washington—(P)—Increase in the enlisted strength of the navy from 83,250 to 85,000 would be provided in the navy appropriation bill reported to the senate Thursday by the appropriations committee.

LAST MINUTE BULLETINS

Madison—(P)—Col. J. L. Johns, Appleton, private secretary to Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman, when informed that Mr. Hubbard was sending his resignation as a member of the highway body, said that was the first information the executive office had received of Mr. Hubbard's intention.

Gov. Zimmerman was not in his office Thursday, and Col. Johns said no action could be taken on the appointment of a successor on the highway commission until Mr. Hubbard's letter arrives.

New York—(P)—David Gordon, University of Wisconsin student who was convicted in special sessions court of punishing an obscene, in serving sentence in a reformatory and when he is released from that sentence faces a similar charge in a federal court.

Washington—(P)—Winding up the argument at it right of the senate committee to require West Virginia operators to present their production costs, E. L. Grever, of Tazewell, Va., Thursday challenged the right of the senate to make the provision.

G. O. P. GROUP WANTS REPEAL OF DRY LAWS

New York—(P)—The national affairs committee of the National Republican club Thursday stood committed to repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The committee in executive session Wednesday adopted a resolution calling for incorporation in the party platform of a plank advocating repeal of the amendment. The resolution will be submitted to the full membership of the club next Tuesday night. It is adopted, its sponsors hope to have it presented to the national convention by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler.

The National Republican club has about 2,000 members living in all parts of the country, 1,000 of whom are residents of New York. President Coolidge is an honorary president and on its roster are Herbert Hoover, vice president Davies and Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois.

Milwaukee—(P)—Because he felt that he owed more to his home community, Shorewood, than he did to the state in general, W. J. Hubbard, president of the village of Shorewood, tendered his resignation as a member of the state highway commission Thursday morning.

In a letter to Governor Fred R. Zimmerman Mr. Hubbard said the attorney-general's office had advised it was technically incompatible for him to hold both the village office and the state office.

He asked that his resignation become effective at once.

PROBE SECRET METHODS USED IN OIL LEASES

Government Charges Failure to Follow Competitive Bidding Policy

Washington—(P)—The secrecy which the government charges cloak the leasing of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair occupied the prosecution Thursday in the conspiracy trial of the wealthy oil operator with numerous witnesses being heard in quick succession, unfolding of the government case.

Progress was slow due to the duplication of testimony of witnesses. This primarily concerned the failure of Albert H. Fall to follow a competitive bidding policy in handling Teapot Dome and his subsequent reticence that Sinclair's proposal had been accepted.

Operators of other companies who had sought a look-in for leases of the oil reserve from Fall's office, including persons and telegraph exchanges with Fall and his office, Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming, and former representative Frank W. Mondell of that state both told of attempts to obtain information relative to the oil reserve from Fall's office. These inquiries were to be made, he said, as late as April 14 and 15, 1922, a week after the lease had been signed, adding that no knowledge of the leasing had been given to them on those occasions.

Arch Holme, of New York, who was witness of one of Teapot Dome, coal and oil Co. In April 1922, said he called on Secretary Denby and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy, E. C. Flannery, assistant secretary of the interior and finally Fall. He had been told in his first visits no lease of Teapot was to be made, he said. He then went to Fall who told him the government would be glad to have his bid.

FALL FAVORS SINCLAIR
The witness said Fall told him that "Mr. Sinclair was the only gentleman to handle in a receptive frame of mind to handle the Teapot lease." He continued that Fall went into the terms of Teapot lease and admitted he had no authority to agree to the terms.

Leslie A. Miller, of Cheyenne, Wyo., another oil man, testified that he had been told by the Teapot lease. He continued that Fall went into the terms of Teapot lease and admitted he had no authority to agree to the terms.

REPORT WITNESS SICK
Failure of Frank E. Richter, a Denver oil man, to appear as a witness, diverted the government momentarily Thursday.

Assembled as the last witness, Richter was reported ill in New York, and Owen T. Roberts, special oil counsel, demanded the presence of his physician, adding that if he was not satisfied with the situation, he probably would ask for a bench warrant for Richter.

Barrickman proceeded to read sections of the deposition bearing upon the suit of the Klan, which seeks $500,000 damages from the five former members and an injunction to restrain them from interfering with the Klan and conducting initiations.

Some 40 persons were injured. The bomb was placed at the foot of a lamppost in the Piazza Giulio Cesare and exploded with terrific force.

Milan, Italy—(P)—Fourteen persons were killed Thursday morning when a bomb was exploded just before the official opening of the Milan fair.

Some 40 persons were injured. The bomb was placed at the foot of a lamppost in the Piazza Giulio Cesare and exploded with terrific force.

Despite the catastrophe King Victor Emmanuel, who had arrived in Milan Thursday morning for the opening of the fair, proceeded to carry out the official inaugural ceremony.

FETE 10 STUDENTS ELECTED MEMBERS OF HONOR SOCIETY

High School Faculty Gives Dinner for Youngsters Honored for Leadership

Ten Appleton high school seniors elected to the National Honor Society were inducted as charter members of the chapter at a general assembly Thursday afternoon.

The honor students are Aloysius Clane, Carleton R. Clement, Staudt, James Cameron, Lynn Hannesdelle, Ted Bolton, Percy Menning, Zora Colburn, Agnes Glasnap and Evelyn Stallman.

These students were chosen on a four fold basis of character, leadership, service to the school and community, and high averages in scholarship. "Service" may be interpreted as a willingness to do cheerfully and enthusiastically any assigned service for the school, such as student government, school publication, a readiness to sell tickets, assist visitors, help backward students, serve a representative in interclass or interschool competition; a willingness to uphold and maintain scholarship and loyal school attitude; to render any service to or through the school to the community; says the explanation by the committee in charge of the elections.

A banquet in honor of the members will be given by the faculty Thursday evening. The committee in charge is composed of Miss Ethel Carter, Miss Gertrude Thues, Miss Doris McCullough and Miss Katherine Spence.

The committee in charge of the elections was composed of Miss Ethel Carter, chairman, Miss Beatrice Nielson, H. H. Helbie and J. R. Walsh. DEFER meeting 17 society.

The regular meeting of the Appleton women's club scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed until Thursday afternoon, April 26. A special program has been arranged for the meeting in connection with "better homes week." Mrs. G. Weitenkel is the chairman in charge of the program.

SEND REPRESENTATIVE TO SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Mrs. S. C. Shannon will represent the Appleton public schools board of education at a meeting of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards, Friday and Saturday at the Schroeder hotel, Milwaukee. W. H. Kriesel, another member of the board also may attend though he has not definitely decided.

The convention will begin at 8 o'clock Friday morning and the day will be devoted to a general discussion of school board problems in the large and small cities of the state. Saturday morning's meeting will be devoted to a discussion of adult education and vocational education in small cities of the state.

BEN ROHAN TALKS TO CITY SUPERINTENDENTS

Ben Rohan, city superintendent of schools will be one of the speakers on the afternoon program of the meeting of the City Superintendents of Schools association in Milwaukee on Friday, April 13. Rohan will discuss the French how to wear clothes.

The meeting will be in the Schroeder hotel and in conjunction with the state school board association convention. Numerous state and mid-west educators will address the superintendents. The meeting will close with a dinner at 5:30 following which J. J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education will speak.

DEFER MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

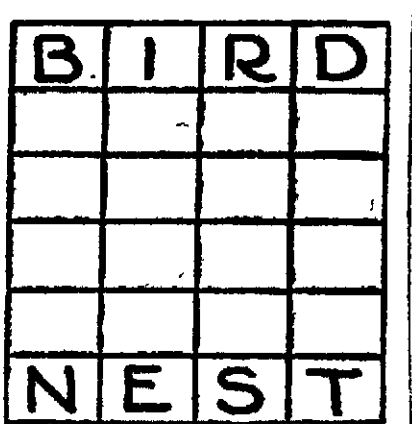

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education will be held Saturday evening in the superintendent of schools office instead of Friday evening. The meeting was deferred one day because of the meeting of city superintendents and the State School Board association in Milwaukee beginning Friday for the city schools.

LETTER GOLF

BIRDIE THIS ONE Birds have a way of getting to their nests quickly, especially when there are little birds to take care of. In letter golf, from BIRD to NEST isn't such a long trip, either. Par is five, but you may be able to cut one stroke off the par on page 5.

THE RULES
1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change Cow to Hen, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
2—You can change only one letter of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
3—You must have a complete word, at a time.
4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

Miss Pauline McCullough returned to Chicago Monday night after spending the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. John Gerrits, here.

DORIS PADMORE MORE

In Paris!

Now, American girls are showing the French how to wear clothes. Doris Padmore, lovely New York City girl whose home is at 70 Barrow Street, is in Paris, displaying gowns for Jean Patou, the famous French designer.

The girls over there have another trick to learn from her. She says, "Everyone marvels at the lustre and softness of my hair. Many of the girls ask me if I use Dandeline. I always delight in telling the easy way we New York girls take care of our hair. All we do is just put a few dashes of Dandeline on our brushes each time we dress our hair. The first few times I used it all my dandruff disappeared and every time it gives new sparkle and life to my hair. It keeps it in place, too, just like I arrange it and makes my scalp always feel grand. I don't have to shampoo nearly so often, either, now that I'm using Dandeline."

Daily application of Dandeline refreshes and tones your scalp. It removes the oily film and makes every strand gleam with new lustre. It dissolves dandruff and keeps it out of your hair. It isn't sticky or oily. All drug stores have the big 35c bottles.

RAZE BUILDING THAT STOOD AS LANDMARK FOR LAST 75 YEARS

An old landmark is being torn down this week on the farm of John Baur, Mackville-rd, about a mile from the city limits. The landmark is a barn that was constructed more than 75 years ago by Hiram Jones. The barn originally was used as a hop house but later it was devoted to community gatherings and parties. During the past generation it was used as a barn.

ELKS BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT AT OSHKOSH

The Elks band of Appleton, under the auspices of Edward F. Mumm, will play at Oshkosh, May 2, when J. F. Malley of Boston, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, speaks here. On May 1, Mr. Malley will speak to the Elks club at Milwaukee.

Plans are being arranged for the local Elks band to play at the national convention of Elks to be held at Miami, Florida in July, according to Mr. Mumm.

CAR CAROMS OFF ANOTHER MACHINE AND HITS POLE

A telephone pole at the intersection of Appleton and Pacific-sts was broken off about 5:30 Sunday afternoon when a car driven by Edward Dolne, 715 W. Packard-st, crashed into it after a collision with another car owned by Charles Hendricks and driven by Hendricks' son. Dolne was driving east on Pacific-st and Hendricks was traveling north on Appleton-st when the accident occurred.

STOPS FALLING HAIR

Look Interesting

Look Interesting

A plain drab man may have many worthy qualities—but the world does not stop to weigh such matters. A man is judged FIRST by his appearance.

So "look interesting"—dress carefully and in good taste. The old heavy winter coat certainly does not improve your appearance and is decidedly not "good taste"—in the spring of the year.

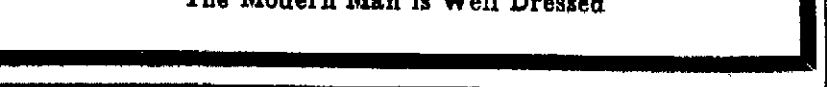

A new spring top coat costs so little in comparison to the service and the pleasure you will derive from wearing it—to say nothing of the favorable FIRST impression a smart top coat creates.

CLEAR UP WRECKAGE ON SOO LINE TRACKS

Eight Cars Scattered Freight Over Right-of-way When Journal Broke

A wrecking crane from Fond du Lac, and section crews have replaced freight cars to their tracks and have cleaned up the debris caused by the wreck of the Soo Line freight train mile North of Wisconsin-ave.

The train, coming from Shawano and headed for Neenah, was wrecked when a broken journal caused a box car to leave the rails. Four box cars, one flat car and three gondola cars were tipped into the ditch, scattering freight over the right of way.

It is believed that the journal, was burned through, causing the wheel to leave the rail.

None of the men was injured but occupants of the caboose experienced a thrilling jolt.

LOCAL COMPANY DRILLS OIL WELLS IN KENTUCKY

L. A. Lohman, field representative for the Wisconsin-Kentucky Oil company, returned to his home here early this week after spending the last five weeks at Center, Ky., where the oil wells of the company are located. Mr. Lohman said three wells are being drilled at present. He plans to return to Kentucky in a few weeks.

GOITRE NOT A DISEASE

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

Milwaukee, Wis. — It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. 689 Box 731, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. ALLOW SPECIAL ENVELOPE FOR AIR MAIL SERVICE

In order to facilitate identification of matter to be carried by airplane, approval has been given by the Federal Postal authorities to an envelope of distinctive design, according to word received Monday by F. F. Wetengel, acting postmaster here.

The outstanding feature of the envelope consists of a border containing alternate blue and red oblique parallelograms with intervening spaces between the two. The color of the envelope is white and thus a red, white and blue color scheme is carried out. The words, "Via Air Mail" must appear in the upper right portion immediately below the space reserved for stamps.

These envelopes are not furnished by the department but any manufacturer or other person is at liberty to make or print for himself or others, such envelopes, according to Mr. Wetengel. The envelopes are intended for air mail only and cannot be used for other mail.

The distinctive border facilitates identification of air mail, not only in handling and distributing, but in detecting the letters when they are in a package, it is pointed out.

ASK POLICE TO FIND MISSING MANITOWOC MAN

Police here have been asked to look in the search for Math Kramer, 38, who disappeared from his home in Manitowoc last Wednesday morning. Kramer was driving a seven-passenger Chandler sedan with the Wisconsin license, D-114,719-1927. Kramer is about five feet, ten and one half inches tall, has dark hair, a dark mustache and a dark complexion. He is round shouldered and wore a dark suit and black and grey top coat when he disappeared.

Burton Manser spent Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Manser, E. Washington-st. He is a student at the University of Wisconsin.

SISTERS PAIS IN DEATH

Inseparable in life, Zena and Esta Hoover, sisters of Logansport, Ind., are believed to have walked to their death in the Eel River together. The body of Esta, 22, was found in the river, and a few days later the body of her 18-year-old sister was recovered by firemen. Autopsy disclosed that Zena was to have become a mother in two months. Besides their parents, they leave seven brothers and sisters.

Paint Lac Du Flambeau As Paradise For Fishermen

One of the last districts to be invaded by the white man is the Lac Du Flambeau country which begins about sixteen miles west of Minocqua. Highway 70 out of that place will take you there. The roads are very good and it is a rare pleasure to drive over them. In selecting the region where you intend to do your vacationing and fishing it is well to be sure that the country you are going into is not limited so far as different waters are concerned.

It is said not infrequently that resorts such as those at Lac Du Flambeau are "fished to death." Nothing could be farther from the truth. Of course some of the most accessible lakes beginning at the backdoors of the resorts are not so apt to afford you the results you expect but, even at that, these waters are all connected in one vast chain so that the fish have free access to all of the waters as they see fit. For that reason, then, you are always quite as apt to connect with a good specimen in one water as in another.

When you are in the Lac Du Flambeau region you have plenty of good territory to work. The lakes that will afford you good fishing are Lac Du Flambeau, Pokagama, Sand, Crawling Stone, Fence, Long Little, Crawling Stone, Sugarbush, Stearns, the Walton, Squirrel, Whitefish, Buckskin, Squaw, Gunlock, Shishabogema, Bills, Pike and Round.

From this large assortment of waters you will readily understand that when conditions are favorable for fishing you will never have any difficulty in getting results. There are Muskellunge, large and small mouth bass, walleyed pike, northern pike and trout. However, the lures to be used must be the right ones. You cannot catch fish with equally good results in all waters with the same lures.

When you go up into the Lac Du Flambeau region you will find many areas of water covered with considerable vegetation such as lily pads, wauke and the like. These are the spots where you will get your large mouth bass, and accordingly, you must have lures that will interest those fighters.

The best lure we ever used in these waters was the Foss for bass and northern pike particularly. The "Shimmy Wiggler" with its buck tail streamer is positively the most deadly of all. The "Oriental" and "Little Egypt" run a close second for successful lures in these waters. It is our aim ever to find the best lure for our readers, and, for that reason, we carry a big assortment. Then, when we get through fishing a certain region we are in a position to know what lures will get the fish.

It is essential, however, that they be properly used. For instance, the Foss "Skidder" must not be "plunked" in and allowed to sink. You will get no fish that way. They are built with a definite object in view, therefore they must be used as intended. With the "Skidder" cast it out and start it back before it really has hit the surface of

The most common diet mistake in the world

—correct it as thousands of others have

MILLIONS fool themselves three times a day. They take caffeine with their meals because they think caffeine has an immediate bracing effect.

Actually, it's the warmth of the beverage that gives you that instant feeling of comfort. The caffeine gets in its real work later. Then this artificial stimulant lashes your nerves—repels sleep—drives your brain when you long to rest.

Correct the mistake
—this way!

Eliminate caffeine from your diet for thirty days—use Postum as your mealtime drink! See what a difference this one simple change in diet can make!

You'll lose nothing in mealtime enjoyment—you'll lose only the regrets that caffeine leaves behind it. Postum's friendly warmth and rich, full-bodied flavor will give you the immediate satisfaction you desire. And afterward—Postum won't get on your nerves, won't rob you of sleep, won't disturb digestion, as caffeine beverages do. For Postum is made of roasted whole wheat and bran—no trace of any artificial stimulant in it! A drink quickly made—with a distinctive flavor millions prefer!

Order Postum today—start the 30-day test! Then, on a basis of results, decide if you ever go back to mealtime doses of caffeine! Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, prepared by boiling. Both cost much less than most other mealtime drinks!

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR DIRECTING PLAY

Playground Director Is Getting Ready for Opening of Season Program

Applications for play ground directors at the various ward grounds now are being received by A. C. Denny, summer playground director. If enough applicants are received within the next four weeks to offer the new director a good choice, appointments will be made at the end of that period.

Two directors will be needed for each ground according to Mr. Denny, a man to direct work among the boys on the grounds and a girl to take charge of work among the girls. Persons who have had some experience in playground work or in handling children and who live in the ward in which the grounds are situated will have first preference.

Last year the jobs offered little inducement because of the often small salary that was paid the different directors. This year, with an appropriation from the city council, the directors will be paid a more nominal salary. The playgrounds probably will open soon after the city schools close in June. Director Denny now is making plans for the season's program.

The same procedure fits the use of the musky "wiggler" as the use of the musky "skidder" to help to attach a big red feather to this lure when casting for this tiger. But keep it on the surface at all times. It is action they want. Use these lures as stated and we guarantee you success.

HOW SMART ARE YOU? WHEN WILL THE SNOW IN THE RAVINE MELT?

If you're a gambling man, or at least a man of sporting blood, here's a suggestion for you. When will the last snow in the ravine north of College-ave disappear?

Up in Alaska and Canada along the Yukon and the natives have a habit of betting the exact day and minute that the ice will begin to break up and as a result some of the old miners, trappers and others clean up a nice sum of cash. For be it from us to start a lottery but if you've any idea when the last snow in the ravine, the accumulation of all snow from city streets, this winter, will be gone, mark it on your calendar and then see how close you come.

FEW DAYS OF GOOD WEATHER WILL OPEN COUNTY ROADS

If weather conditions are favorable all unimproved county, state and federal trunk highways in Outagamie county will be in good shape within two weeks, according to A. G. Bausewitz, highway commissioner. County patrolmen, starting their work last week, have been hauling stone and filler to sections of roads which were impassable. The frost has left the ground except in most places according to Mr. Bausewitz, and a week or two of dry weather will enable the patrolmen to put the roads in good shape.

SOCIETY

NEENAH MERCHANTS
SPLIT ON PLAN FOR SATURDAY CLOSING

Final Decision on Plan Expected to Be Made After Meeting at Oshkosh Tuesday

Neenah—Forty retail merchants gathered Wednesday evening at Valley Inn and discussed the advisability of closing stores on Saturday nights and remaining open Friday nights instead. The meeting which followed a dinner, was about equally divided in its opinion as to the question, which is being talked in every city in the Fox River Valley. Each merchant expressed his own views and butchers for the reason that there are few people who will purchase their Sunday supplies on Friday nights, especially perishable articles and because of outlying, and chain stores which are kept open on Saturday nights and do not cooperate with the others.

The project will no doubt come to a head Tuesday evening when each city in the valley will send delegates to a meeting at Oshkosh, when the closing question will be discussed by business men of all classes. Most every city in the valley has held meetings similar to the one Wednesday evening and in most cases the majority of businessmen were in favor of giving the new change a try for at least six months. Neenah will send a delegation.

William Krueger was in charge and called upon Mr. Corbett of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Corbett, who has made a study of the situation as carried out in other cities, especially Sheboygan and Wausau, reported that the merchants in these two cities find the plan working out nicely and that it would be difficult now to change back to the old plan. He stated that Appleton favored giving it a try.

He also stated that the difficulty with the chain stores would be short as he had information, especially from the Atlantic and Pacific store management, that these stores would cooperate with plans adopted by other merchants, especially during the summer months. His remarks were upheld by Mr. Dame, also of Appleton, a member of a committee to canvass the city of Sheboygan to get the sentiment of the businessmen there.

E. R. Smith of the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce, reported that out of 178 merchants in Oshkosh 107 were heartily in favor and have signed up to give the plan a trial. He reported that the grocers there would come in line providing the chain stores and the smaller stores could be brought into line. Mr. Richmond, manager of the Oshkosh Mercantile, also reported that out of the 40 markets there, only one objected to giving the plan a try. He claimed, as did others, that the Saturday business between the hours of 6 and 9 o'clock in the evening, has shown a great decrease. He also reported that Fond du Lac was all ready to follow the other cities in the valley.

Chairman Krueger then called upon each of the Neenah businessmen present to voice their opinion. Theodore Johnson, of Johnson brothers grocery, was against the move and was willing to let well enough alone. He could see no benefit to the people by having the stores open on Friday nights but could see benefits of Saturday night opening as on that night, perishable goods can be sold at a late hour at a sacrifice. He admitted that the Saturday night business was dwindling but unless chain stores and the small village stores to which people could drive, were closed, the stores in the city would lose by closing on Saturdays.

M. W. Schalk, of the Jandrey company, was in favor of the day if it were general. There is nothing detrimental and perhaps there are certain benefits. Our Saturday afternoon business is slim, but our early Saturday evening hours are generally big. It is possible we could gain by spreading the buying time over two days or distribute it through the week," he claimed. He pointed out where the small village stores would reap the benefits of the city Saturday night closing. Hugh Falvey was in favor of closing every night in the week. Saturday and Sunday like to close one afternoon each week also. Hans Hanson was ready to fall in line with the majority. Walter Ulrich, meat man, was not in favor as he claimed the butchers have their problems to meet and could not see any benefit to the butcher business to close Saturday night when a greater number of people do their Sunday meat shopping.

J. O. Kuehl was not in favor, being in the grocery business, he had the same objection about the chain stores and fruit markets which are open every night in the week. "I cannot imagine people buying strawberries or celery or other perishable articles on Friday night for their Sunday dinner," he said. Possibly, he claimed, if all stores would close, the plan might work out all right. H. Meyer, shoemaker; William Krueger, hardware dealer; Mr. F. J. Rhoades, Olene Peterson and Mrs. Fadden, milliners; E. E. Lampert, drygoods merchant; J. Krause, men's wear; R. W. Haase, hardware; were in favor and ready to fall in line should the plan carry. Quinn brothers, radio dealers, and their store was open every night as did George Farnakes, proprietor of a restaurant. Mr. Fetter thought it should be tried out and if it failed, the merchants could go back to the old plan at any time.

John Neller of Appleton, stated the plan was one of the changing propositions coming to the merchants for a decision. He stated that he had met with the Trade and Labor bodies on the proposed plans and the organization had asked for more time in which to consider the situation. He also stated that he had discussed the proposition with several farm organizations and in some cases they did not approve but he thought they did not yet understand, while some were willing to try the plan and other their shop-

BASKETBALL SEASON
OFFICIALLY CLOSED

Basket Tossers End Tourney at Neenah and Are Now Ready for Track Work

Neenah—The high school basketball season was officially closed Wednesday evening when the first squad, which contains the team which won third place at the state tournament, divided itself in two teams, one composed of players residing in the First and Third wards and the other of players of the Second and Fourth wards, and played a game at Kimberly high school gymnasium. The second and Fourth ward team composed of Haase, Schneller, Ehlers, Striddle, Thermanson, Christensen and Babcock, defeated the other team composed of Johnson, Nelson, Pratt, Groen, Gaertner, Schaefer and L. Neubauer, by a score of 38 to 12. Haase was the chief pointmaker for the winner by making five baskets and five free throws. Thermanson followed with seven baskets. Schneller had four baskets and one freethrow.

After this game, the faculty players, Coach Jorgenson, Fehrmann, Alberts, Gerhardt and St. Louis, played the Pretzel Benders, the winners of the Fou Nou tournament, to a score of 46 to 33 in favor of the Pretzels. Bill, captain of the winning team scored 15 baskets and two freethrows while Coach Jorgenson scored eight baskets and one freethrow for the losers.

Basketball over for the season, the coach has issued orders for track practice so that his team will be ready to take part in the conference meet which will be held in May at Citizens' Athletic field.

Neenah—Troop 3, St. Thomas Boy Scouts, has completed more than 100 birdhouses of all shapes and sizes, which the members are offering for sale in order to raise money for summer activities. Each boy was assigned a certain number of houses to make and bring to the Scout headquarters where the sale is being held. Those of the houses remaining after the sale, will be placed among the trees at Scout cabin property on the east shore of Lake Winnebago.

ARM BROKEN WHEN
PULLEY COMES LOOSE

Neenah—Louis Jensen of Mikesville, was brought to Theda Clark hospital Wednesday afternoon with a broken arm and bad cuts and bruises about his face and body. He was struck with a pulley from a feed grinder when it became loose and flew off.

BRING DANA CHOIR TO
NEENAH FOR CONCERT

Neenah—Arrangements have been made by Our Savior Danish Lutheran church, to bring the Dana college choir of Blair, Neb., here for a concert on the evening of April 23. The concert will be given at the church on Isabella-st. and will consist of a program of choir numbers with solos. The choir is composed of 30 young people.

NEENAH CHURCH FORMS
NEW BOY SCOUT TROOP

Neenah—The Rev. C. E. Fritz, Dr. T. J. Seller, Robert Haertl, William Ehrigott and Otto Lieber have been appointed a committee at St. Paul English Lutheran church, to make plans for establishing a troop of Boy Scouts from among the boys of that parish. A preliminary meeting was held early in the week at the church at which the subject was discussed and a decision made to go forward with the movement. The names of 26 boys were received on the charter roll which will be on an undated and names at received for a scout sized troop. A scoutmaster will be secured from among the young men of the congregation.

TO GIVE ADDRESS
Neenah—The Rev. Emmo Guemling will deliver an address Thursday evening at Trinity Lutheran parish hall on "Work on Training of Volunteer Missionary Workers Among the Young People." Rev. Guemling is brought here by the Walther league.

ring on Fridays instead of Saturdays. Each city has been waiting to see what the other is going to do, and it is thought that after the Tuesday evening meeting at Oshkosh, some definite action will be taken by the majority vote of those present. With proper cooperation of the chain stores, which it is expected, will be had when the heads of the several companies can be communicated with and had the situation explained, orders will come for the stores in the valley cities coming under these heads, to fall in line, and when this is accomplished, expenses will be few.

DENTISTS WANT TO SECURE SPECIALIST

Winnebago - co Association Would Bring Georgia Expert to State for Talks

Neenah—Winnebago-co Dental association held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening following a 6:30 dinner served at Valley Inn. More than 35 dentists of this vicinity were present. The principal speaker was Dr. R. W. Huegel of Madison, secretary of the State Dental Society. His talk was on Dental Organization, which subject was discussed following the speech.

The meeting voted to try and secure Prof. Sutton of Atlanta, Ga., expert on children's teeth, to come to Wisconsin and give a series of talks before the different dental associations. Preliminary arrangements were made at the meeting for the Fox River Valley Dental association meeting, to be held May 11 and 12 at the Valley Inn and which will attract more than 600 state dentists to the city.

Dr. Henry Schultz of Neenah, who presided at the meeting, broached a plan, to be submitted to the Neenah school board, whereby all pupils in public schools who have to do dental work, be allowed to do it during school hours and secure the required excuse for his or her absence from studies from the dentist doing the work. He will be required to give a report on the length of time, date and place where the work is being attended to.

CHANGE MINDS ABOUT
PAVING MATERIALS

Neenah Property Owners Now Decide They Want Cheaper Kinds

Neenah—Petitions have been placed in circulation among the property owners on S. Commercial-st. and Winnebago-ave, asking the city council to change its decision from cement pavement to one of the patented asphalt materials for the work on those two streets.

The council held a meeting last Monday evening to give the property owners a chance to make a decision as to what material they desired and by the majority of those present, following a rising vote, it was decided that cement was the most desirable and was selected. Now some of the property owners have changed their minds and are looking for the cheaper material. The petitions will be presented at the first meeting of the new council.

LANZER HAS SLIGHT LEAD
IN 20 GAME PIN MATCH

Menasha—In one of the most exciting matches ever staged at the local bowling alleys, Frank Lanzer took the lead in the first block of the 20 game match with "Fate" Duerwachter Wednesday evening. A difference of only 12 pins separated their counts when the last ball was thrown down in the tenth game. Lanzer tallied 1894 pins for an average of 189, while Duerwachter was getting 1832 pins for an average of 183.

Duerwachter dueled into the lead immediately and held his advantage by 17 pins until the ninth game. In this game Lanzer by a run of strikes turned in a score of 332, while Duerwachter, due to bad breaks, getting four splits, could only count 167. The tenth game found Duerwachter striking and sparing with great consistency and getting a count of 212, while Lanzer through two errors was only registering 176, thereby cutting down the 48 pin lead which the latter had accumulated in the ninth game to 12 pins.

The second block of this match will be rolled at 9 o'clock next Wednesday evening.

Scores:
Lanzer—153, 166, 192, 205, 205, 163, 212, 185, 232, 176; totals, 139, 511, 7167, 321, 1039, 1301, 1456, 1718, 1894.
Duerwachter—162, 173, 181, 214, 198, 150, 200, 191, 167, 212; totals, 341, 522, 737, 932, 1112, 1312, 1503, 1570, 1892.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS
PHIL VANCE
 JOHN F. X. MACKHAM, District Attorney of New York County
MARGARET ODELL (THE "CANARY")
 CHARLES CLEAVER, a man-about-town
 KENNETH SPOTSWOOD, a manufacturer
 LOUIS MANNIX, an importer
 DR. AMBROSE LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist
 TONY SKEEL, a professional burglar
 WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator
 HARRY SPIVELY, telephone operator
 ERNEST HEATH, Sergeant of the Homicide Bureau

THE STORY THUS FAR
 Skeel's finger prints were found in the apartment of the murdered Margaret Odell, but Vance does not believe him guilty. It is proved later that Mannix, Cleaver and Dr. Lindquist all had been lying about their whereabouts on the night of the murder. The truth comes out that Mannix had been calling on a young lady in the apartment adjoining the "Canary's" that Cleaver had been in the building around midnight and that Dr. Lindquist, knowing that Spotswood was calling on Margaret Odell, had planned in a jealous fit to kill him. But this plan was frustrated when Spotswood jumped into a cab. Skeel telephones that he will tell who committed the murder, and Markham, Vance and Heath wait for him in the district attorney's office.

CHAPTER XL
 A few minutes later Heath turned abruptly and went out into the hall. We could hear him calling to Snitkin down the elevator shaft, but when he came back into his office his expression told us as yet there was no news of Skeel.

"I'll call up the bureau," he decided, "and see what Guilloyle had to report. At least we'll know then when the Dude left his house."

But when the sergeant had been connected with police headquarters he was informed that Guilloyle had as yet made no report.

"That's damn funny," he commented, hanging up the receiver.

It was now twenty minutes past ten. Markham was growing restive. The tenacity with which the Canary murder-case had resisted all his efforts toward a solution had filled him with discouragement; and he had hoped, almost desperately, that this morning's interview with Skeel would clear up the mystery, or at least supply him with information on which definite action could be taken. Now, with Skeel late for this all-important appointment, the strain was becoming tense.

He pushed back his chair nervously and, going to the window, gazed out into the dark haze of fine rain. When he returned to his desk his face was set.

"I'll give our friend until half past ten," he said grimly. "If he isn't here then, Sergeant, you'd better call up the local police station-house and have them send a patrol-wagon for him."

There was another few minutes of silence. Vance lolled in his chair with half-closed eyes, but I noticed that, though he still held his cigarette, he was not smoking. His forehead was puckered by a frown, and he was very quiet. I knew that some unusual problem was occupying him. His lethargy had in it a quality of intentness and concentration.

As I watched him he suddenly sat up straight, his eyes open and alert. He tossed his dead cigarette into the receiver with a jerky movement that attested to some inner excitement. "Oh my word!" he exclaimed. "It really can't be y' know! And yet—his face darkened—and yet, by Jove, that's it!... What an ass I've been—what an unutterable ass!... Oh!"

He sprang to his feet, then stood looking down at the floor like a man dazed, afraid of his own thoughts.

"Markham, I don't like it—I don't like it at all." He spoke almost as if he were frightened. "I tell you, there's something terrible going on—something uncanny. The thought of it makes my flesh creep. I must be getting old and sentimental," he added, with an effort at lightness; but the look in his eyes belied his tone. "Why didn't I see it go on..."

We were all staring at him in amazement. I had never seen him affected in this way before, and the fact that he was habitually so cynical and aloof so adamant to emotion and impervious to outside influences, gave his words and actions an impelling and impressive quality.

After a moment he shook himself slightly, as if to throw off the pall of horror that had descended upon him, and, stepping to Markham's desk, he leaned over, resting on both hands.

"Don't you see?" he added. "Skeel's not coming. No use to wait—no use of our having come here in the first place! We have to go to him. He's waiting for us. Come! Get your hat."

Markham had arisen and Vance took him firmly by the arm.

"You needn't argue," he persisted. "You'll have to go to him sooner or later. You might as well go now, don't y' know... My word! What a situation!"

He had led Markham, astonished and but mildly protesting, into the middle of the room, and he now beckoned to Heath with his free hand.

"You too, Sergeant. Sorry you had all the trouble. My fault. I should have foreseen this thing. A devilish shame; but my mind was on Monets all yesterday afternoon. You know where Skeel lives?"

Heath nodded mechanically. He had fallen under the spell of Vance's strange and dynamic importunities.

"Then don't wait—And, Sergeant! You'd better bring Burke or Snitkin along. They won't be needed here—nobody'll be needed here any more today."

Heath looked inquiringly to Markham for counsel; his bewilderment had thrown him into a state of mute indecision. Markham nodded his approval of Vance's suggestions, and, without a word, slipped into his rain-coat.

A few minutes later the four of us, accompanied by Snitkin, had entered Vance's car and were lurching uptown. Swacker had been sent home; the office had been locked up; and Burke and Emery had departed for the homicide bureau to await further instructions.

Skeel lived in 35th Street, near the East River, in a dingy, but once pretentious house, which formerly had been the residence of some old family of the better class. It now had an air of dilapidation and decay; there was rubbish in the area-way; and a large sign announcing rooms for rent was posted in one of the ground-floor windows.

As we drew up before it Heath sprang to the street and looked sharply about him. Presently he espied an unkempt man slouching in the doorway of a grocery-store diagonally opposite, and beckoned to him. The man shuffled over furtively.

"It's all right, Guilloyle," the sergeant told him. "We're paying the Dude a social visit. What's the trouble? Why didn't you report?"

Guilloyle looked surprised. "I was told to phone in when he left the house, sir. But he ain't left yet. Mallory tailed him home last night round ten o'clock, and I relieved Mallory at nine this morning. The Dude's still inside."

"Of course he's still inside, Sergeant," said Vance, a bit impatiently. "Where's his room situated, Guilloyle?"

"Second floor, at the back."

"Right. We're going in. — Stand by."

"Look out for him," admonished Guilloyle. "He's got a gal."

Heath took the lead up the worn steps which led from the pavement to the little vestibule. Without ringing, he roughly grasped the door-knob and shook it. The door was unlocked, and we stepped into the stuffy lower hallway.

A bedraggled woman of about 40, in a disreputable dressing-gown, and with hair hanging in strings over her shoulders, emerged suddenly from a rear door and came toward us unsteadily, her heavy eyes focused on us with menacing resentment.

"Say," she burst out, in a rasping voice. "What do youse mean by bustin' in like this on a respectable lady?"

And she launched forth upon a stream of profane epithets.

Heath, who was nearest her, placed his large hand over her face, and gave her a gentle but firm shove backward.

"You keep outa this, Cleopatra!" he advised her, and began to ascend the stairs.

The second-floor hallway was dimly lighted by a small flickering gas-jet, and at the rear we could distinguish the outlines of a single door set in the middle of the wall.

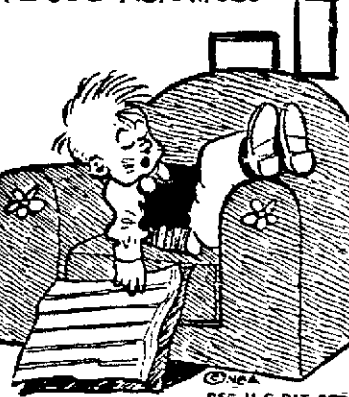

"That'll be Mr. Skeel's abode," observed Heath.

He walked up to it and, dropping one hand in his right coat-pocket, turned the knob. But the door was locked. He then knocked violently upon it, and placing his ear to the jamb, listened. Snitkin stood directly behind him, his hand also in his pocket. The rest of us remained a little in the rear.

Heath had knocked, a second time when Vance's voice spoke up from the semi-darkness.

LITTLE JOE

SOME PEOPLE ARE TOO LAZY TO MOVE, WHICH SAVES THE TROUBLE OF HOUSE HUNTING.

"I say, Sergeant, you're wasting time with all that formality."

"I guess you're right," came the answer after a moment of what seemed unbearable silence.

Heath bent down and looked at the lock. Then he took some instrument from his pocket and inserted it into the keyhole.

"You're right," he repeated. "The key's gone."

He stepped back and, balancing on his toes like a sprinter, sent his shoulders crashing against the panel directly over the knob. But the lock held.

"Come on Snitkin," he ordered.

The two detectives hurled themselves against the door. At the third onslaught there was a splintering of wood and a tearing of the lock's bolt through the moulding. The door swung drunkenly inward.

The room was in almost complete darkness. We all hesitated on the threshold, while Snitkin crossed warily to one of the windows and sent the shade clattering up. The yellow, gray light filtered in, and the objects of the room at once took definable form. A large, old-fashioned bed projected from the wall on the right.

"Look!" cried Snitkin, pointing; and something in his voice sent a shiver over me.

We pressed forward. On the foot of the bed, at the side toward the door, sprawled the crumpled body of Skeel. Like the Canary, he had been strangled. His head hung back over the foot-board, his face a hideous distortion. His arms were outstretched and one leg trailed over the edge of the mattress, resting on the floor.

"Thuggee," murmured Vance.

"Lindquist mentioned it. Curious!"

Heath stood staring fixedly at the body, his shoulders hunched. His normal ruddiness of complexion was gone, and he seemed like a man hypnotized.

"Mother o' God!" he breathed, awestricken. And, with an involuntary motion, he crossed himself.

Markham was shaken also. He set his jaw rigidly.

"You're right, Vance." His voice was strained and unnatural. "Something sinister and terrible has been going on here. There's a fiend loose in this town—a werewolf!"

"I wouldn't say that, old man," Vance regarded the murdered Skeel critically. "No, I wouldn't say that. Not a werewolf. Just a desperate human being. A man of extremes, perhaps—but quite rational, and logical—oh, how, I ceased logical!"

(TO BE CONTINUED)

The Rev. A. F. Herzfeldt, formerly pastor of the Lutheran church at Black Creek for the past 15 years, will return the latter part of this month from Phoenix, Arizona, where he has been for the past six months because of ill health. Rev. Mr. Herzfeldt is greatly improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hulbert of La Crosse are spending several days with Appleton friends.

MAIL CARRIERS GET SATURDAY HOLIDAY

No Mail Deliveries Saturday Afternoons Beginning With April 21

Beginning April 21, city mail carriers at the local post office will not make deliveries on Saturday afternoons, according to F. F. Wettengel, acting postmaster. This arrangement will be in effect during the summer months, Mr. Wettengel said.

Carriers may be allowed to have Saturday afternoon off under postal regulations, according to Mr. Wettengel.

There is no expense to the department and if the mail service is not unduly as a result.

When the mail on Saturday is so heavy that it cannot all be delivered during the morning then the carriers will be obliged to work Saturday afternoon so postal matter will have to wait at the office until the following Monday, Mr. Wettengel said.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS ATTEND THISTLETHWAITE MEETING

About 15 Appleton Y. M. C. A. boys will have the opportunity to hear Glenn F. Thistlethwaite, head football coach at the University of Wisconsin, at a meeting of the Fox river valley older boys' conference in Oshkosh high school on Saturday, April 21. Dr.

H. M. Wriston of Lawrence college also will speak at the conference.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide an opportunity for representative older boys and experienced adult leaders to discuss problems which concern them as individuals and as community groups, especially problems which involve the Christian attitude and practice.

Any high school boy in the valley interested in the primary purpose of the conference may attend. Men interested in work with boys also are invited.

Dr. Wriston will speak at noon in the high school dining room. Coach Thistlethwaite will close the conference on Saturday afternoon, answering questions which arise in the discussion groups.

Let's Settle This Tire Question Now

Most manufacturers claim to have "the better tire." They're sincere.

The tires of 1927 are better, of course, than the tires of 1907 and 1917. It's to be expected that the tire of 1937 will be better still.

But the man buying a tire today wants to know, "What's the best tire on the market NOW?"

Everybody tells him: I've got it — a bargain." "Here it is—with a special discount." Claim upon claim, inducement on inducement.

Yet, after all, the intelligent buyer will always bank on this "preponderance of the evidence," as th lawyers call it:

More People Ride on Goodyear Tires Than on Any Other Kind

The reason for this is plain. Goodyear Tires have made good. They are supreme on the road, where performance is the only judge.

Goodyear keeps this leadership unchallenged because — Goodyear makes the World's Greatest Tire—

Goodyears out-perform any other tires;

Goodyears sell at fair prices without "bargains," "discounts" or cuts in quality;

Goodyears are backed by a standard, friendly, expert service—the kind we give you here.

Every customer we have will vouch for these statements about the Goodyear Tires we sell.

It will be a pleasure to show you the new Goodyears and demonstrate our service.

MARYE and MOM

Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Marye dear:

No doubt you don't know that Florence has been wanting a career. The stage, I think it is. After she got your letter she went straight to Betty and demanded that Betty move to her mother's house. Of course Clyde was at home—he isn't able to work yet—and he set down his foot and refused to do any such thing.

Then Florence tried to get her mother to go to Betty, but Mrs. Meredith wouldn't do it. Poor Florence came to me, crying about what she called a chance to make something of herself and being tied down here just because she didn't get married before Betty and Alan did.

She talked about taking her mother to the city with her but she knows very well that the poor old lady couldn't stand being moved out of her home. I'm afraid it's hopeless for Florence if she really is in earnest about a career. But I honestly think it's only a new idea she got from Mabel Clary. They correspond. In fact Florence had a letter from Mabel the day she heard from you. I think she made up her mind then to go to the city for good if she could get her mother to live with Betty and Clyde.

Betty said she'd keep house for her mother until Florence gets back. Clyde is able to look after himself. But you know it will be pretty hard on Betty especially as her mother is already fretting about things she imagines can happen to Florence. So I hope you won't encourage Florence to prolong her visit.

Another thing, Marye dear, I wish you wouldn't introduce her to young men like Mr. Bartlett. He seems to me a very dangerous person even though you do call him just a nice boy. He oughtn't to be sending presents to a married woman. Suppose he sent you a box of candy just when you happened to be feeling like a neglected wife. You wouldn't have gotten to do some little thing for you? You would forget that husbands are husbands the world over, and that young men who have nothing to do but be sweet to the wives are not to be compared with them. I am surprised that you account the things I hate to think so Marye, but it seems to me that you delight in this boy's infatuation.

Lovingly,
MOM.

NEXT: A letter in Alan's coat pocket.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Fruit juice, cereal, cream, eggs in nests, graham muffins, marmalade, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Peppers stuffed with fish, cabbage and orange salad, ginger cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Baked m. halibut, scalloped sweet potatoes and pineapple, asparagus salad, fruit puff pudding, milk, coffee.

The luncheon main dish is planned to use up any fish left from the fish stew in the preceding dinner. However, a small can of fish is excellent used in this way if there are no leftovers.

PEPPERS STUFFED WITH FISH

Four medium sized sweet green peppers, 1 cup boiled rice, 2-3 cup flaked fish, 1 thin slice bacon, 4 tablespoons coarse bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon minced onion, salt and pepper, tomato juice, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Cut a slice from stem end of peppers and remove seeds and white pith. Drop into rapidly boiling water, simmer ten minutes and drain. Plunge into cold water and turn upside down until ready to stuff. Cut bacon into tiny pieces and fry until fat. Add rice and stir with a fork until each kernel is coated with fat. Add onion, fish, salt and pepper and tomato juice with to make moist. Fill peppers with mixture. Melt butter and stir in crumbs. Put a tablespoonful of crumbs on top of each pepper and bake in a moderate oven until crumbs are brown and peppers are tender. It will take about half an hour.

Altogether-That's What Paris Is

Calling Latest Frock Ensembles

Two of Poiret's two-piece "altogether" red crepe de chine at the left, trimmed with rich white wool embroidery; at the right, grey crepe of suspender treatment. In the center the frocks are viewed with their coats.

BY ROSETTE

NEA Fashion Expert

Paris—the frock ensemble is a new note Paris is developing in novel fashion this year.

By that I mean that a chic frock is not enough nowadays. It must have its own cape, long coat, jacket, sleeveless, cardigan or at least a sleeveless gilet to give thought to cool days when pride will not keep one quite warm enough, even though the frock may be an original creation of Poiret or other famous designer.

CALL 'EM ALTOGETHER

With the coat these new ensembles are called "altogether." A woman is smartly clad for cold days or warm, in one of them. The sensible principle underlying them is that, with or without the top covering, the costume is complete.

One favorite manner of interpreting this late whim is to use a printed material for the dress and touch up the plain material jacket, cape or coat, with printed touches.

The dress which composes one original two-piece suit by Poiret distinctively develops a new bolero effect on the frock and achieves quite a different and much straighter silhouette by adding a hip length jacket.

Red crepe de chine is its fabric medium, richly embroidered in white wool and small metal eyelets. The frock has three tiers of embroidered material for the bolero effect and big pleats under each give skirt fullness. The sleeves repeat the embroidery in their cuffs. And a charming feminine monk's collar of white mousseline de soie embroidered in red adds its becomingness.

The coat is straight line, of the red, richly embroidered both as to body and slit cuffs. And a long shawl collar repeats the frock's collar for material and decoration.

Totally different is a Poiret grey crepe de chine frock that has a long coat with military collar topping it.

The frock has a suspender treatment outlined with a touch of old red and great fullness and more length characterize the skirt. The collar is red embroidered, as are inserts in the cuffs and a little tab tie is of red.

BUTTONS LIKE THE BEST

New in many ways is the coat. It buttons instead of wrapping around—as do the best coats this year. It is of the same grey silk and has had ent and much straighter silhouette by adding a hip length jacket.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE Tinymites heard Clowny shout. "We've rushed so much I'm all lured out. Our little pork chop friends have gone. Now, what are we to do? If you ask me, I think it best that we all take a needed rest. The hillside's very pretty and the sky above is blue.

"It isn't going to rain, I'll bet, and we'll be out and not get wet if we just spread out on the grass and drink the fresh air in. I wish someone was here to keep watch over us in case we sleep. I guess, however, this is quite the safest place we've been."

"Oh, sure," cried Conny. "Have no fear. Our butther friend is some place near. He will not let us come to harm. I feel quite sure of that. Before I rest I think I'll try to get a drink. A stream's nearby. If we can't find a cup I'll dip some water with my hat."

So the little stream they went and about a half an hour was spent in playing 'round the water's edge. The Tinymites drank their fill. Then Scouty cried. "Come follow me back to the shade of yonder tree and we will sprawl out on the ground. 'Twill really be a thrill!"

They all flopped down and thought it grand and snoozed their way to slumberland. The butcher came and saw them and then turned and walked away. "They're comfortable as they can be. I'll simply let them rest," said he. "And, later on, when they wake up, they'll all be set to play."

"Wasn't the butcher hadn't heard the coming of a monstrous bird. It swooped down on the Tinymites and eyed them for a spell. And then it grabbed wee Clowny tight and with him flew right out of sight. The other Tinymites then woke up and all began to yell.

Both frock ensembles emphasize greater length. Both show the molded silhouette. And both, by suggestion, give the normal waistline much credit, though they feature a hip-length decoration on the waist.

NEW MATERIAL IS BEING SHOWN IN LOCAL STORES

Figured pique is a new material featured in local stores. With a white background, for bright little bunches of flowers the material should prove popular for childrens dresses, house dresses and even for street dresses in place of the usual linen, shantung or other cotton fabrics.

Fashion Plaques

A QUARTET of chiffon flowers are effective on the front of the dress where skirt and bodice meet.

PERFUME SOLD TO MANY MEN IN APPLETON

Perfume and toilet water purchases by young men in local drug stores is not limited to Christmas time and gifts for his "Sweetie," say the drug store owners. Men are regular customers at the perfume counter and they are just as particular about their favorite kind of perfume or toilet water as the ladies are. Time was when it was only the sissy or effeminate man who wore perfume, but now even the browniest and biggest of football heroes are not above a dab of the fragrant stuff on their handkerchiefs.

MORE RESPECT FOR PUBLIC PROPERTY

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

I saw three wads of chewing gum helping out the decoration. One reposed on the side of a bronze-and-marble drinking-fountain, one on a wall near a mural painting, the other on the arm of a chair—not under it—on it.

The theater cost three million dollars. The price of admission is 50 cents. The price probably would be lower if the owners did not have to allow for depreciation through sheer vandalism and pay an enormous amount weekly to charwomen, painters and carpenters, to keep the place clean and in repair.

It is strange but true that the very people who have so little disregard for the property of others, as a rule, will forsake a place that begins to look dingy and soiled, and look for new worlds to destroy.

It is the same with parks. The departments of public works in large cities pay more to their cleaning squads than to their gardeners and botanists.

If the papers were not picked up and the egg-shells, banana skins and pickle-bottles gathered in and disposed of the merry wretches of God's doors soon would desert the spot their want on carelessness had made hideous and seek for other peaceful glades to demolish.

They never have learned to regard the property of others as sacred. A public park means everybody's park, but no one person or one family has a right to make it ugly for the other thousands who visit it.

We have laws to punish vandalism. But like a lot of other laws that are not enforced, they are a joke. Americans laugh at fines. Is the only answer to this serious problem, imprisonment? After all it might create a good healthy respect for public property.

MATRONS AND MUSSES HATS MUCH ALIKE

May I see something suitable for a middle aged lady in hats? would meet with a blank response at local millinery shops, according to a local milliner. The section for matrons' hats grows smaller each year for all colors, sizes, shapes and styles are shown and bought by the middle aged woman. The myth that somber colors are for older women has faded and in its stead there is a feeling that color to go with ones personality and complexion should be worn.

NEW NECKLINE

It's smart, ever so wearable! The diagonal treatment of neckline and waistline, with circular skirt fullness at front, shows the latest and most important movement of fashion. Design No. 3134 is further distinguished by an attractively shaped cascading jabot with picoté edges. Pattern for this charming dress comes in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It is very effective made of figured georgette crepe, crepe satin, canton-faille crepe, flat silk crepe, crepella and printed silk crepe. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Our patterns are made by leading Fashion Designers of New York City and are guaranteed to fit perfectly. We suggest that, in ordering your pattern, you enclose 10 cents additional for copy of Spring Fashion Magazine. It contains a section of movie-star styles and 100 others, including styles for stouts, home wear, lingerie, children, etc.

DAIRY PLANS SYSTEM FOR TAKING CARE OF SURPLUS MILK SUPPLY

Wolf River Dairy Company Shows Increase in Profits at Annual Meeting

New London — An evaporated milk system may be added to the equipment of the Wolf Valley Dairy company. This was brought out at the annual meeting of stockholders at the factory on Tuesday afternoon. The need of such a system was pointed out by Edward Pohland, manager of the plant and ways and means of effecting the various changes necessary were discussed.

The new system will take care of surplus milk not used in the manufacture of ice cream reducing its bulk to powdered form, thus enabling the local factory to expand to include many new customers. A small addition to the factory may be necessary, and considerable new machinery will be added if the proposed change becomes a reality.

It was found in going over the audits of the company that the year has proven about twice as profitable as the preceding one. This satisfactory condition, it was pointed out, results from the increased amount of ice cream put out, and raw cream having been shipped than a year ago, and less butter made. Very little butter was made this year in comparison to the amount of ice cream turned out, the price of butter being low.

NEW LONDON STREETS ALMOST IMPASSABLE

Snow and Thawing Weather Has Caused Several Thoroughfares to Be Closed

New London — The recent snow, together with the fact that frost is rapidly leaving the ground, have brought about a condition which has played havoc with a good many of New London streets. Especially on the north side of the city is this true, where many side streets are without gravel surfacing and are this week barred to traffic because of deep mud.

The street improvement program has not yet been gone into and the amount of work to be done this year will not be known until after May 1, according to Albert Gesse, street commissioner. Mr. Gesse states that there is little work being done on streets just now, because there is no gravel on hand, and few cinders can be procured. Bordens factory, which usually furnishes many of the cinders used in filling sink holes, has none to sell this spring.

Rotarians Sponsor Youthful Administration of Government

Clintonville — A remarkable order of efficiency, grasp on municipal problems, familiarity with city ordinances and ability in execution was demonstrated by the young people of this community when they assumed the reins of local government this week under the auspices of the Rotary club.

When the youthful mayor, Merrill Boulac, called the new council together for organization, he was supported by a full force, as every officer elected March 31 responded "here," to roll call.

The appointive officers were filled as follows: Chief of police, William Merrill; Night police, Marvin Bahri; Speed Cop, Herbert Finch; City Attorney, Samuel Finch; City Engineer, Carson Mabel; Fire Chief, Robert Pasch; Street Commissioner, Leslie Kemmer; Louis Walch.

Items of business disposed of were numerous and varied, every section of the city receiving attention. One of the first to be brought up concerned the brick walls of an old grist mill which was destroyed by fire many years ago, and which remain standing in the street. After a session by Alderman Kelly, in which he advised prompt attention be given this structure, which he pronounced a menace to lives of the many children passing there daily, he moved that the walls be razed and the site cleared of all debris.

Certain sections of the city came in for side walks, and street repaving; street lighting carried into extremes of the city; excavations of long standing were ordered filled; jay walking prohibited; unsightly junk accumulations in three different cases were ordered removed; wandering dogs ordered off the streets; the Health Officer and Chief of Police were delegated to wait upon a certain individual whose person and attire were characterized and unsightly.

All vehicles bearing old license plates were to be tagged and fines imposed. Excavations along the street were ordered stopped and the police force instructed to enforce traffic laws.

Tags were placed, and arrests made without fear or favor. Several respected citizens came under the ban and trials were conducted with dignity and seriousness. Several contempt of court cases arose before officers fully accepted the new order of affairs.

Several minors were arrested for smoking and cigarettes confiscated. In one case where a lad of very tender years was haled into court for smoking, he was ordered to open his mouth in order that the Justice of the Peace might smell his breath, and others in the court room whose fairness as well as their gladiolaries were unquestioned, were requested to sample the breath of the accused.

The Rotary club feels well repaid for this effort to educate the young people in the duties and responsibilities of government and to instill the value of self government.

One of the valued possessions of Merrill Boulac is a letter from the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce which he says he shall always keep as a reminder of this experience.

The letter reads: "Your Honor, Accept the congratulations of the Chamber of Commerce as mayor of our coordinate spirit of former mayors by progressive city, and may we enjoy the means of which, we are desirous of building this city into a greater and more beautiful place in which to live. And should future generations ever pause to look back upon their day of opportunity they may be able to say, 'We did our best.'"

Sincerely, George Graff, Sec. Clintonville Chamber of Commerce.

EXPECT SHAKEUP IN COUNCIL COMMITTEES

Much Conjecturing Underway as Time for New Body to Assemble Draws Near

Although the first meeting of the new city council will not be held for another week, and until then the members of the various council committees is a matter of conjecture, aldermen have been hazzarding a half dozen guesses as to who will head the major committees and what the general makeup will be.

Several aldermen expect a shakeup in view of the fact that several of the committees and the mayor have gone to the mat on certain matters. Too, several of the present chairmen have expressed the desire to be relieved of the offices they now hold.

The chairman of the nine council committees probably will be the nine aldermen who have held office during the last year. The new committees of the council will be announced at the first regular meeting of the new organization on Wednesday evening, April 18.

STAGE And SCREEN

MILLION PEOPLE ARE FILMED FOR VIDOR PICTURE

It was not until after Director King Vidor had filmed more than a million people in the congested manufacturing and commercial centers of the eastern states that he believed he had caught the proper spirit of "The Crowd," his new twelve-reel special for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, now being shown at Fischer's Appleton Theatre.

Most of these people were filmed at a time they were utterly unconscious of the fact they were appearing in a motion picture.

With masked batteries of cameras, Vidor caught the immense theatre crowds of New York's Broadway. He filmed the noon day crowds of Fifth Avenue and Broadway, the exclusive shopping districts of New York, the great financial district, the docks and waterfronts.

He got the exits of the towering skyscrapers as they discharged their tons of thousands of employees for the night and from barges in the harbor "shot" the magnificent skyline of the busiest city in the world.

At Pittsburgh, Penn., he used the thousands of employees of the world's greatest steel mills and at Rochester, N. Y., worked against a background of the great Kodak factories and the Eastman laboratories.

"LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME" Remember "Tollable David?" As performed by Richard Barthelmess, this character is one of the outstanding screen figures of the past decade and has gone down in motion picture history as one of the finest characterizations of all time.

Richard Barthelmess has a very similar role in First National's "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," which comes to the Elite Theatre tomorrow for an engagement of 3 days. This is the picturization of John Fox, Jr.'s romantic story of the Kentucky Mountains, one of the most popular novels ever written.

Barthelmess is seen in the role of "Chad," the fourteen-year-old boy who has amazing experiences during his youth. It is an ideal role for the star and one that he plays with sincerity and conviction.

The picture is an Alfred Santell production, directed by this master of dramatic situation. Molly O'Day, the charming young First National actress, who has proven a sensation in her first year in pictures, plays opposite Barthelmess.

The cast is one of the finest ever assembled, including Doris Dawson, David Torrence, Nelson McDowell, Martha Mattox, Victor Potel, Mark Hamilton, William Bertram, Walter Lewis, Gardner James, Ralph Yearley, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Robert Muesch, Claude Gillingwater, Walter Rogers and many others.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE IN WISCONSIN LOWERED 3 PER CENT

Political Health Nurses Told Sheppard-Towner Law Has Caused Decrease

Madison—(AP)—The Sheppard-Towner law for welfare of mothers and children has meant a decrease from 72.1 to 69.1 in the infant mortality rate from 1921 to 1926, according to Dr. Cora S. Allen, director of the bureau of child welfare, state department of health. She explained these advantages to the public health nurses of the state at their annual conference here Tuesday.

The law is being administered and children are being aided through routing of the Child Welfare Special, a motorized child health center, in rural districts; establishment of permanent centers through state and local funds and organization of classes in infant care.

"As a rule," Doctor Allen said, "babies are not brought to the child health centers during the first days or weeks of life and as a high percentage of infant deaths occur during this period, the deaths from the second to the twelfth months are used to demonstrate the results of care and advice given for children reached through the centers."

In countries where there are permanent child health centers, Doctor Allen reported finding fewer deaths from gastro-intestinal ailments in children. These diseases or complaints are generally caused by improper feeding. She drew the conclusion that the centers were improving the feeding conditions for babies.

"Since the beginning of the state's cooperation under the maternity and infancy act," Dr. Allen said, "twenty counties have assumed financial responsibility for maternity and infancy work begun by the use of maternity funds."

Dr. F. F. Bowman, Madison health officer, told the nurses that the 25 per cent of non-attendance in Wisconsin schools due to mostly preventable disease, means a loss of one-fourth of the public investment in schools.

Miss Maybelle G. Bush, state school supervisor, told the nurses that the department of public instruction was fully cognizant of the health factor in public schools. She said that health instruction is now required in many grades of schools as an established portion of the curriculum. The department has published several bulletins on health subjects for the information of the schools of the state, she said. She expressed the favor of the department for health recreation programs in the public schools of the state.

Berger of Wisconsin and James H. Maurer of Reading, Pa.

SUPREME COURT RULES ON ILLEGAL BANK TAX

Fond du Lac—An appeal which will bring before the state Supreme court the entire matter of counties' responsibilities for refunds made on illegal bank taxes will be taken by the city treasurers of Fond du Lac and Ripon, it was announced Tuesday.

The cities will appeal from Judge C. A. Fowler's overruling of a demurrer, filed in mandamus proceedings, to force the county treasurer to accept the cities' tax returns with deductions of the amounts which the cities allege are due to refunds from the county.

The action will bring before the Supreme court for the first time the question of whether or not towns, cities and villages are entitled to a refund from the counties for bank taxes collected in the year previous to the ruling by the United States Supreme court that the law under which these taxes had been collected was unconstitutional.

EDUCATORS OPPOSE GRID TOURNAMENTS

Questionnaires Also Show That Many of Them Oppose Cage Meetings

Madison—(AP)—Opposition on the part of a large percentage of school administrators throughout Wisconsin to state basketball tournaments such as was recently held in Madison, is expressed in answers to a questionnaire conducted by the state department of public instruction.

Of those making returns to the public instruction department, 161 were opposed to state basketball tournaments, 163 were in favor of them, and 34 did not care one way or the other. State football championships were voted down overwhelmingly, 244 opposed to 65 in favor of them. Thirty-nine expressed themselves as indifferent. Returns on the questionnaire were made by 375 city and county school superintendents and high school principals. Baseball championships also were voted undesirable, 204 to 84, while field and track state meets were favored 174 to 128.

Other state contests which the school officials opposed are: golf, tennis, band, orchestra, bookkeeping, arithmetic, spelling, handwriting and essays. Favorable votes were given for statewide competition in debating, declamation, reading and school exhibits. One hundred ninety-eight who voted opposition to state tournaments expressed approval of the district contests held throughout the state.

The state department of public instruction finds that when the number of pupils involved is taken into account, the vote cast on the questionnaire is overwhelmingly opposed to state contests. The superintendents and principals of large high schools voted almost unanimously against all

Your Hands Speak

By Edna Wallace Hopper

While you perform hundreds of commonplace tasks everyone present watches you with hands.

You pour tea. You open your purse. You shake hands with an acquaintance. You put on your gloves. All day long people watch your hands.

Do your hands speak for you? Do they suggest daintiness? They can be firm, capable and at the same time exquisitely kept with practically no effort. Youth Lotion is rubbed into the skin, leaving your hands smooth and dry, so that you can wear gloves immediately after applying.

Just keep a bottle on your dressing table and one where you work (in your kitchen, your office or shop). Use it every time you wash your hands. The pleasurable sense of feeling your skin so satiny—of seeing it so soft and white—is worth a good deal more than the slight effort. The cost is trivial. You can get a large bottle of my Youth Hand Lotion at any toilet counter, 60 cents.

state competition, while the principals of small schools, although complaining that the small school does not have a fair chance in such contests, voted in favor of them.

There were but few reasons given in favor of state contests as opposed to district and conference meets. The chief reason advanced is that of stimulation of interest and effort on the part of pupils. The chief opposition advanced to the state meets is that the expense of time and money, and the disruption of regular school work does not warrant the state contest, but that the district or conference meets are sufficient to provide stimulation and interest.

Those opposing the state contests said they were designed for the excessive training of a few students and the expense of the many; that "the tail wags the dog" in that the tournaments overshadow regular school work, dominate the pupils' interest, and that the teachers neglect more important work to advance the tournaments.

WAIT FOR WARM WEATHER FOR PERMANENT REPAIRS

Until city streets dry out sufficient for work to be done on them, with some possibility of the road being in good condition after the job has been completed, only temporary filling to enable their use by motorists will be undertaken. Practically all the outlying city streets have had to be filled in either with cinders or gravel in the last few weeks and when a snow storm comes along as was the case over the weekend the work goes for naught.

Among the streets which have been repaired in the last few weeks are N. Mason-st from College-ave through to W. Wisconsin-ave where holes have been filled in and grading will be started as soon as possible, S. Kernan-ave which was placed in good condition before the snow and rain and which now will have to be filled again, and W. Commercial-st and E. Eldorado-st. Some repair work also has been done on N. Durkee-st.

No more worrying whether baking is being done at the right temperature. The improved Stewart Thermostat removes that forever. You simply set this automatic heat control at the temperature desired—then read a book—do anything—with never a worry about what's in the oven. Roast, cake or pie—it makes no difference—they all come out done to a turn from this new Stewart 911.

The Stewart eliminates the element of luck in cake baking, for proper temperature is nine-tenths of success.

But the Stewart Thermostat is only one of the many labor-saving features that have caused thousands of housewives to replace their present ranges with a Stewart 911. And when they choose Stewart 911 they make a purchase that will provide satisfaction through many years—they buy beauty—lasting beauty which remains throughout the long life of the range.

Joined-- Two Familiar Names that Signify Quality

Of you people of Appleton, the name Wichmann is both venerable and honorable. For many years they have been noted for the fine quality of the merchandise they handled and for fair dealing with their customers.

That they should choose the Stewart Gas Range to be added to their display is significant. For the Stewart Range has had an enviable reputation for almost a century. This, in itself, is assurance of satisfaction.

Hundreds of Appleton families are cooking their meals on Stewart Gas Ranges of the older type as this line was sold very extensively in Appleton up to a recent date. The outstanding features of the Stewart Gas Ranges are their long service and perfect operation. Many of those now using Stewart Ranges will prefer to replace them with the new models of the same brand, assuring themselves the same satisfaction for the future which they have known in the past.

The location of the factory right here in Wisconsin assures prompt service should it ever be necessary.

We invite you to come in and have a demonstration of the new Stewart Gas Ranges.

SEEK IMPROVEMENTS FOR HOG FAIRS HERE

Larson Farmer Says Gravel Pile and Used Automobiles Cause Congestion

Representing a delegation of farmers who for many years have been attending the hog fairs held here each month, Charles R. Fitzpatrick, Larson, Wednesday called on Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and asked that something be done to relieve present conditions on the city grounds.

Mr. Fitzpatrick declared that the Appleton hog fair is probably the best one in the state, its closest competitor being one held at Milwaukee. He said that a large pile of gravel and a bunch of second hand automobiles now stored in the grounds did away with much of the space ordinarily used for the fairs and caused a crowded condition.

Having bought hogs at the local fairs for more than 20 years, he estimated the average trading on fair days amounted to $5,000 and that the attendance exceeded that of any other fair in this part of the state.

500 LINE EMPLOYEES GIVEN PROMOTIONS

Five promotions have been made, going into effect April 2, on the Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Sault Ste. Marie railroad, according to reports received by George Sweetman, general freight agent at the company's local freight depot.

T. E. Sands, former freight traffic manager, has been promoted to general freight traffic manager. E. G. Clark, former freight agent has been promoted to the position of freight traffic manager, and has been succeeded by T. H. Rees, former freight agent. R. V. Golden has been appointed general freight agent in charge of, off line shipments, and N. A. Carlson, former general agent at Detroit, Mich., has been appointed general agent at Chicago.

2,400 BABY CHICKS IN LARGEST SHIPMENT

Cases containing 2,400 baby chicks were received at the post office here Thursday. This is the largest shipment of chicks received at the local office in a single day since hatcheries started shipping chicks several weeks ago. From now on, according to postal officials, the number of chicks received in the office will remain at about 2,000. The chick shipping season is expected to last about two months.

W. C. O. F. SEATS NEW OFFICERS

They were: Mrs. Frances O'Keefe, chief ranger; Mrs. Joseph Schreiter, vice chief ranger; Mrs. E. C. Otto, recording secretary; Mrs. Dora Brown, financial secretary; Miss Mary Schreiter, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Green, Mrs. Conrad Verbrick, Mrs. William Butler, trustees; Mrs. Joseph Doerflinger, Mrs. Frank Slattery, conductors; Mrs. Peter Jones, Mrs. Chris Hearden, sentinels.

Mrs. John Letter, a retiring officer, was presented with a corsage by the court in appreciation of her work. After the installation ceremonies were the business meeting cards were played. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. J. Hoffman and Mrs. E. C. Otto. Schafkopf winners were Mrs. J. Haberman, Mrs. Chris Hearden and Mrs. Dora Brown.

GALLI-CURCI NOTED FOR HER PERSONALITY

Galli-Curci, who will sing Monday night at Lawrence Memorial chapel, is not only the possessor of a beautiful voice but of a charming personality which her audiences everywhere respond to and admire.

As a newspaper editor wrote after a concert given last season at Marion, Ohio, under the auspices of the Woman's Musical club before an audience of several thousand, "A genuine American, one of whom America may be justly proud. Thoroughly democratic, no snobbery, no foolishness. Not only a Queen of Song, but the Queen of Kindness, Courtesy, Gentility, Unselfishness and Goodness."

Instant contact is characteristic of Madame Galli-Curci's concerts. When she comes out on the stage, there is friendly, sympathetic feeling established with her audience that makes friends of her hearers. A genuine air of happiness accompanies the singer on the stage.

ARREST BUTCHER ON 3 LIQUOR CHARGES

Black Creek Man Charged With Drunkenness, Owning a Still and Having Booze

Charles Meyer, Black Creek butcher, is in the county jail here awaiting arraignment on charges of illegal possession of a still and moonshine and of drunkenness and vagrancy. Meyer was arrested late Wednesday afternoon by Sheriff Otto Zuehlke and Deputies Edward Poole and Herman Winters.

Sheriff Zuehlke received a complaint about Meyer Wednesday and secured a warrant for his arrest for drunkenness and vagrancy. A search warrant also was obtained and when the raiding party arrived at Meyer's home they found him in bed. In another room there was a 25-gallon still, 40 gallons of mash and about a quart of alleged liquor in a gallon jar.

Meyer was taken to the county jail and will be taken before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Friday.

INITIATE 16 LETTERMEN IN HONORARY SOCIETY

Sixteen Appleton high school athletes were initiated into the "A" club Wednesday afternoon at the school. Boys who received letters for participation in school athletic contests conducted in the Fox river valley are eligible for membership.

Plans for the annual "A" club dance at the high school on April 21 and for the placing of athletic groups photographs in a conspicuous place about the high school were discussed. Orville Strutz, president of the club presided at the meeting.

CLOUDY AND COLDER WEATHER IS COMING

Colder weather is predicted for Friday, and the sun is not going to warm things up either, for the weather man says cloudy tonight and Friday.

Very little rain fell in Appleton and vicinity Thursday night, compared with the northern parts of Wisconsin. Rain changing to snow fell in abundance in the region around Rhineclander according to reports.

The temperatures Thursday morning were 34 degrees and at noon it was 42 degrees above zero.

BOBER GIVES U. S. CREDIT FOR GERMAN STABILITY

Whether or not Germany will be able to keep up payments of its 33 million dollars reparations in future years was discussed by Professor M. M. Bober, Lawrence college, at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Conway hotel Wednesday noon. The speaker declared that the Dawes reparations committee had done more towards stabilizing conditions in the country than any other nation and that before that time, riots and disorders had prevented profit producing business.

Under the present plan, as outlined by Prof. Bober, revenues derived from the national budget, the railroads, which are government owned, and a tax on industries will be used to meet the payments.

INSPECTOR AT HEARING ON NEW BUILDING CODE

John N. Welland, city building inspector, has been called to Madison to attend a public hearing before the industrial commission on the new state building code covering the design and use of steel joints. The hearing will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the capital building. L. M. Schindler, city engineer, will accompany him to confer with the highway commission on several projects under consideration.

Now the One Minute Potato Dip

Disinfect your seed this new way

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPPDUST solution and out again—all ready to plant.

This new seed potato disinfectant is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment—besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. This season late blight attack in many seed producing areas makes treatment with DIPPDUST necessary to prevent seed decay.

After one trial of DIPPDUST, you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. DIPPDUST PROTECTS THE SEED AND INSURES STURDY, PROFITABLE PLANTS.

Compare this New Treatment point by point with the older ones:

| THE NEW WAY | THE OLD WAY |
|--|--|
| Dippdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant | Formaldehyde or Corrosive Sublimates |
| 1. Requires less than 1 minute. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day. | 1. Require from 1 1/2 to 2 hours. One man can treat only from 50 to 75 bushels per day. |
| 2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without the slightest injury. | 2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury. |
| 3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants. | 3. Before cutting, give no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently decays in the ground before the young plants get started. |
| 4. Controls surface-borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and black-leg. | 4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia, and scab, do not control black-leg. |
| 5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20%. | 5. Frequently decrease the stand, and therefore the yield, to a serious extent. |

One pound treats fifteen bushels of seed potatoes.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds too

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

APPLETON PAIR LEADS IN FORESTER DOUBLES

Shorty's Five of Appleton rolled a 2455 score in the 1928 Fox River Valley Catholic Order of Foresters bowling tournament, being held at Little Chute, and while it was not enough to place them among the high leaders, a duo from the team, Robert Merkel and Adrian Faas rolled into first place in the doubles with a 1071 score, including three 200 games by Faas.

The scores:

Doubles: Bauer—174, 190, 178, 542; H. London—140, 188, 164, 492; 1084. R. Merkel—202, 157, 130, 489; A. Faas—174, 201, 207, 582, 1071.

Singles—J. Bauer—174, 174, 166, 514. H. London—174, 158, 104, 436; R. Merkel—222, 141, 168, 531; A. Faas, 143 145, 123, 417.

Would Return to Majors

Ernie Wingard, former St. Louis Brown, who now is with Milwaukee in the American Association, says he hopes to return to the big leagues after this season. He is 24 years old.

Billy DeFoe, St. Paul, and Billy Burke, San Francisco (4) Joe Gordon, St. Paul, stopped Joe Durham, San Francisco (4).

Farrell, Mac Smith Lead Winter Pro Golf Winners

Looking over the winter golf records it can be seen that the season was not so bad for Johnny Farrell and Macdonald Smith, who saw most of the important prize money in the California, Texas and Florida opens.

Farrell and Smith earned $6500 each and some $15,000 in other cash prizes went to Bill Mehlhorn, Gene Sarazen, Bobby Cruikshank and Tommy Armour.

Cruikshank failed to win a single big tournament, but he finished third in four tournaments and managed to place third among the money winners for the season with $4500.

Smith played in nine tournaments, won three, was second twice and finished third and fourth in two others, a total of seven times when he was well up in the money.

Farrell played in eight tournaments and won only one, but that one victory in the La Gorce open at Miami Beach netted him $5000. He tied for first place in the Nassau open and finished second and third in two others.

Smith's best killing was in the rich Los Angeles open where he won first prize $6500 with a total of 284 strokes.

SMITH PLAYED BEST

Farrell's sensational round of 63 in winning the LaGorce prize was the season but he was pretty even with Smith on the season's scoring.

Smith's average for thirty-four rounds was 72 2-34 and Farrell's for thirty rounds was 72 12-30.

Gene Sarazen played in only a few tournaments, but he did exceptionally well financially winning more than $3000. He won the Miami and the Miami Beach open and tied Farrell for first at Nassau. His average score for the season was 71 1-18, the only player to get below 72.

The earnings of Bill Mehlhorn and Tommy Armour also exceeded $3000. Mehlhorn played in nine tournaments and won three. Armour also played in nine and although he failed to win a first prize he was consistently up near the top.

The $2000 class included Harry Cooper, Al Watrous, Al Espinosa, Joe Kirkwood and two newcomers, Billy Burke and Henry Cluck.

The list of major tournaments and winners follows:

Los Angeles open—Macdonald Smith.

La Gorce open—Johnny Farrell.

North and South open—Billy Burke.

Texas open—Bill Mehlhorn.

South Central open—Macdonald Smith.

Florida open—Henry Cluck.

West Coast open—Al Espinosa.

Bahamas open—Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell.

El Paso open—Larry Nabholz.

Falco Verde open—Macdonald Smith.

Miami open—Gene Sarazen.

Long Beach open—Bill Mehlhorn and Leo Diegel.

Miami Beach open—Gene Sarazen.

Richmond open—Bill Mehlhorn.

International Four Ball—Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen.

WOULDN'T FIGHT FOR $50,000,000 DEMPSEY SHOUTS

Former Champion Satisfied With "Pile" and Fears for Eyes if He Returns

New York (AP)—Jack Dempsey, once a lean, hungry youth who rode into New York on brake-beams to fight for beam money, was back in town Thursday, a wealthy, well-fed business man with his fist future behind him.

His arrival was a far cry to the day in 1916 when the bronzed youngster from the mining camps of Colorado rode into the metropolis in search of fame. If there was a dining car on that train, it was in the caboose and there was no place there for Dempsey to work out the kinks that came of "riding the rods."

Dempsey then would fight anyone—and he did. His sweeping fists, the lure of his ring personality and ferocity and the courage that pulled him back to score a knockout after Louis Firpo hammered him out of the ring, made Jack the greatest drawing card in the history of sport. With him came million dollar crowds, then $2,000,000 and finally a gate of close to $3,000,000 for his last stand against Gene Tunney in Chicago last September.

KNOWS WHEN TO QUIT

Now, Dempsey, still possessing the major part of the $2,500,000 his granite fists have earned, believes that the time has come to quit the game for good, before the thudding gloves of a Tunney or the punch of a younger man strip him of both health and reason. Ring history is full of examples of men who stayed beyond their time, for just one more big purse—and ended their days cutting paper dolls in a psychiatric ward.

Dempsey's career now has stretched through eighteen years—"long enough," he declares.

Ever since his first engagement, fear of going blind has haunted Dempsey's career. Always an easy man to let, ready at any time to take two punches for the chance to land one, the matted Manassa Mauler was a mark for Tunney's sharpshooting right hand the night he lost the title to the scholarly Marine in the downpour at Philadelphia. After that defeat, Dempsey spent two weeks in a dark room with the left side of his face a green and purple mass of bruised flesh.

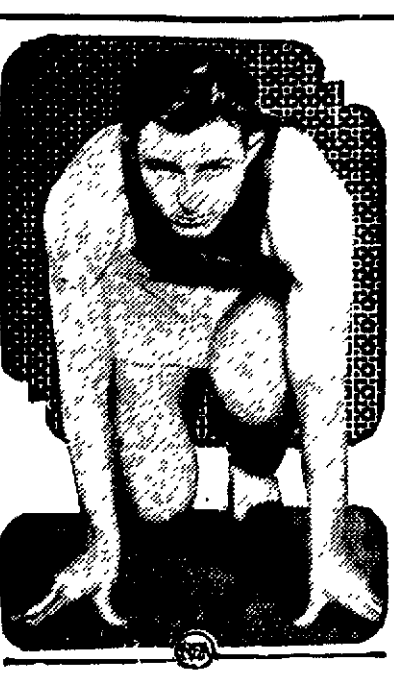

Again at Chicago last September Dempsey's eyes were cut and torn. In the tenth round, Tunney's head ripped open a triangular gash over the left eye that severed a tendon and since has led to the report that the former champion was going blind.

The injury did not impair his sight, although Jack lost control of his eyelid for a time and suffered hemorrhages behind the eyeball.

STILL SOME SKEPTIC

But it's hard to discourage a skeptic and there are few more skeptical persons who wouldn't believe Dempsey when he announced his retirement out on the Pacific Coast. Some even remained skeptical Thursday although the ground appeared pretty

READY FOR BOAT

Vaughn W. Stevenson, a sophomore at the University of Iowa, became an outstanding candidate for the United States Olympic team recently when he ran 300 yards in 29 8/10 seconds.

The recognized world's record is 30 6/10 seconds, made by Benjie Weller in 1906, and the American record was 30 2/10 seconds, made by Charley Paddock in 1921. In making his fast time, Stevenson barely defeated George Baird, Iowa, who holds the Western Conference indoor quarter-mile record. Baird was timed in 29 9/10 seconds. They are members of the Iowa mile relay team.

KUNITZ AND SONS WIN FROM WEGNER AND SONS

Oscar Kunitz and sons took a three-man bowling match from H. Wegner and sons Wednesday evening at the Elk alleys, winning the match by 50 pins and added the second by 73 for a 95-pin total before losing by 36.

Oscar Kunitz had high game of the match, a 210, the only 200 game rolled, and Robert Kunitz had high series of 546. E. Wegner led the losers with high game of 190 and high series of 507.

"I wouldn't fight again for $50,000,000. I have all the money I need. I can walk around, I know what time it is and I want to stay that way. Because Rickard is my pal, he knows I'm through, that I'm only 40 per cent, what I was as champion. He was the first to agree with me."

APPLETON PIN TEAMS AT BAY APRIL 21-22

Fifteen Legion Quintets to Take Part in State Veteran Meet

Appleton veterans of the World war will open their invasion of Green Bay, where they will roll in the second annual Wisconsin State American Legion Bowling tournament, on Saturday, April 21, when seven doubles teams will take the drives at the Columbus club alleys. The 14 men will roll singles games. All other Appleton pinmen will bowl on Sunday, April 22, and the meet will close on Sunday, April 23.

On the Saturday date, the doubles pairs will be E. Schabo and F. Wheeler, W. Gressenz and R. Merkel, E. Maley and Dr. C. L. Kolb, Jack Stevenson and E. Gamsky, C. Baetz and R. Peterson, P. Scallion and J. Marston. The men will roll at 8 o'clock in the evening and then will shoot their singles at 8:50.

Three local teams will start Sunday's Appleton bowling at 12:30 at noon. They are Legion No. 7, W. Fries, captain; Fox River Paper Co., C. O. Baetz, captain; Legion No. 5, C. Miller, captain. Twelve more Appleton teams take the drives at 4:10 in the afternoon and the local bowling is completed with two doubles teams and four singles at 7:40 and 8:50 and six doubles teams and twelve singles at 9:20 and 10:10.

Appleton teams rolling at 4:10 are Conway Hotel Barber shop, C. J. Smith, captain; Interlake Pulp and Paper Co., Floyd Kessler; Legion No. 1, Dr. C. L. Kolb; Legion No. 2, W. Horn; Brandt's Wreckers, Clifford Brandt; Forester Specials, C. A. Retza; Legion No. 23, Harvey Friebe; Legion No. 10, C. G. Saecker; Schafer's Lucky Strikes, Steve Schafer; Appleton Tire Shop, A. B. Scheurle; Post Crescent, Edward Starnard; Legion Boosters, F. F. Wheeler. Members of the Post-Crescent team are Starnard, Lester Hartzell, Maurice Cartier, Ted Albrecht and M. Donnelly.

The doubles at 9:20 are C. Retza, F. Fries; E. Fraser, C. Brandt; F. Fries, W. Fries; P. Yeig, A. Weisgerber; J. Brown, J. Balliet; G. Otto, M. Bauer. In the singles all will roll but Bauer, E. Reich taking his place. In the doubles at 7:40 R. Baetz, F. Frank, and L. Glicker will roll, all taking part in the singles later. Ten Neenah fives are rolling at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, April 14, five Neenah doubles teams at 10:40 Sunday morning and ten singles bowlers at 11:30.

EARL ROGERS FIGHTS AT CUDAHY ON MONDAY

Earl Rogers, well-known Appleton mitsinger will resume his ring work next Monday evening when he assists in the opening ceremony of a new club at Cudahy, Wis., a few miles from Milwaukee. Earl will battle a strong Cream City boy in one of five four-round battles which will complete the card for the opening night. The fight will be at 135 pounds with the Appleton boxer a slight favorite for victory.

Oakland, Calif.—Jimmy Duffy, Oakland won a foul from Jack Thompson, Oakland (6).

JUST AN INFANT

Connie Mack isn't going into old men entirely in his efforts to grab the American League pennant with the Philadelphia Athletics. One of the youngest members of his squad is Johnny Lyons, a right-hander, who was signed from the Atwater Kent sandlot team in Philadelphia. He won 23 straight games for the Atwater Kents last season and a few seasons before he ran up a winning streak of 41 games. He started pitching with Germantown high school.

APPLETON ELKS LEAVE FOR NATIONAL TOURNEY

A bowling team representing the Appleton Elk lodge and containing some of the best maple busters in the city, will leave Friday evening for Louisville, Ky., where the 1928 national elk tourney is being held. The team will roll Sunday morning and its members will roll their singles and doubles games at 8 o'clock in the evening. Members are Frank and William Fries, Forrest Johnston, William C. Jacobson, Clarence Currie and Robert Stark. The team is expected to enter the money class if it rolls up to its usual form.

LAWRENCE TRACKMEN HOPE TO GET OUTSIDE

The Lawrence college track squad, with its first meet scarcely more than a week off, expected to get outside Thursday for its first outdoor drill of the season. Snow and wet soggy ground has kept the Vikings working inside up until now. A week from Saturday, on April 21, they will open their season by meeting Lake Forest College at Lake Forest in a dual meet.

Cooney Goes to Outfield

Because his arm has gone back, Jahn Cooney will do no more pitching for the Boston Braves but will be carried by that club this season as a utility outfielder.

Goldsboro, N. C.—W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon, Ga., knocked out George Gemas, Philadelphia (8).

BADGER BALLERS LOSE ANOTHER ON SOUTH TRIP

Starkville, Mo.—(AP)—The Mississippi A. and M. sluggers hit their stride here Wednesday afternoon and snowed the University of Wisconsin under a storm of hits and runs, taking the first game of their series by a count of 13 to 2.

Two doubles, a pair of triples and a home run aided in the Badger defeat, as did three singles by Priester, Euland, on the mound for A. and M., held the visitors to five hits. 1th Massey and Weiner taking two apiece. Freeland and Mahon pitched inconsistent ball for Wisconsin.

Greatest Player to McGraw

The greatest ball player of all time, says John McGraw, is Honus Wagner, who played shortstop for Pittsburgh many years ago.

Cincinnati—Harry McCarthy, Cincinnati, won from Kid Woods, Indianapolis (10).

Jack Smith, New York, and Pietro Corri, Italy, drew (10).

END ELK SWEEPSTAKE EVENTS ON APRIL 2

The five game sweepstake bowling tourney, now being held at the 10 alleys, will close on Tuesday April 2 rather than on Sunday, April 15, according to Clarence Currie, alley manager. The entry fee is $3 and a $1 prize is guaranteed by the alleys for first prize.

The second of the Father and Son bowling matches will take place at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, April 1. Mr. Currie said. Any father and son desiring to bowl are eligible for the meet and can enter by leaving the names at the alleys. The dads are out for revenge for the first match which the offsprings won by just four-pin margin.

Finest Recreation Park

New York City officials think the will have the largest and finest playgrounds in the world when improvements, costing $600,000, are completed at Macomb's Dam Park. More than 10,000 athletes will be able to use the different fields at the same time.

Paris—Spider Pladner, European bantamweight champion, won a technical knockout over Giovanni Sili Italy (6).

Four Former Cardinals Desire Olympic Berths

Madison—When the United States picks its track team to represent this country at the Olympic games in Holland this summer, it will have to carefully consider four former Wisconsin track men who are candidates for the team.

Three of these track men are graduates of Wisconsin, while the other, like Lindbergh, attended the great university long enough to be known as a Western Conference runner, and then stepped out to set some world's records.

Herb Schwarze, a shot putter, is the individual who left the Badger campus rather abruptly, and has since been making quite a name for himself. At the present time he holds the indoor world's record for the shot put.

The three graduates, however, have been training under the roof of the little Wisconsin gym annex—the very place in which they were taught their stuff.

These men are "Chuck" McGinnis, Johnny Zola, and Ken Kennedy. They might be termed the "trio of Badger captains." McGinnis will go down in the annals of Wisconsin track as the greatest all-around athlete ever to compete for the Cardinal. Last year it was McGinnis who gave Wisconsin an indoor track title, by winning three events, the high hurdles, high jump and pole vault—unparalleled almost.

He was quite appropriately known as Wisconsin's "one man track team." Johnny Zola is still attending Wisconsin but he is merely finishing his thesis and is ineligible to compete for the Badgers. He was captain of the championship barriers last fall, and won the two mile Western Conference title, as well as the cross country title in his last year of competition.

Ken Kennedy was captain of the Badger track team two years ago and was regarded then as one of the greatest quarter milers ever turned out in running the quarter. He is credited with having graduated in 48. Since he graduated he has been in Madison doing sports writing, but keeping himself in condition for further competition.

All three of these men have been competing in various track events in the middle west and east as part of their campaign for an Olympic berth. McGinnis and Zola, especially, have been traveling about the country to various meets.

BIRGER TO HANG ON FRIDAY

Charles Birger, notorious southern Illinois gang leader, lost his last chance to escape hanging the other day when the supreme court denied a rehearing on his conviction of murder and sentence to death. He is to be hanged Friday, April 13, for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City, Ill., unless Governor Len Small intervenes. Here Birger is shown with his two children, Minnie (left) and Charline.

WISCONSIN ELEVENTH IN NUMBER OF AUTOS

New Figures Show There Is a Car for Every 5.13 Persons in Nation

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Washington—Wisconsin had 698,289 motor vehicles in 1927, the Bureau of Public Roads today announced. Wisconsin was the eleventh state in the number of motor vehicles owned—New York, California, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Indiana, Iowa, and New Jersey being the states having more motor cars than Wisconsin.

The total national registration of 23,127,315 vehicles was composed of 20,230,429 passenger vehicles and 2,896,886 motor trucks and road tractors. This registration represents an increase of 1,125,922 vehicles or 5 per cent more than in 1926. Using the population estimate for the middle of last year, there was one motor vehicle for every 5.13 persons.

States with a registration increase of 10 per cent or more are North Carolina, South Carolina, Utah and Arizona. States with a numerical increase of over 50,000 are New York, California, Ohio, Illinois, Texas and New Jersey.

As in other recent years, motor vehicle registration receipts constituted a substantial contribution to funds for road construction. The total receipts from registration fees and license amounts to $301,061,132. These funds were allocated as follows: Collection and administration $14,876,410; state highways, $189,385,289; road funds $58,577,893; payments on state and country road bonds $38,087,598; and for miscellaneous purposes $4,533,942.

NAME TEN STUDENTS TO HONOR SOCIETY

Seniors Have Been Elected by Faculty and Will Be Made Charter Members

Ten senior students have been elected by the faculty of Appleton high school to be the charter members of the Appleton high school chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. Names of the students will be announced Thursday afternoon at a general assembly meeting.

The charter of the organization was granted to the school last fall on petition of the faculty. All of the students chosen have a scholarship average throughout their high school course of a "B" or above, although the list of eligibles to the society presented to the faculty several weeks ago consisted of those 50 students in the upper one fourth of the class and included a number who had an average between "C" and "B."

Besides scholarship, requisites for membership in the society are character, leadership and services. The constitution of the organization makes eligible students in the upper one fourth of their class, and 15 per cent may be chosen but these regulations can be modified by the individual chapter.

Members of the committee in charge of the election are Miss Ethel Carter, chairman, Miss Gertrude Thuss, Miss Elsie Mueller, H. H. Helble and J. R. Walsh.

Opposed President Wilson at Height of His World-wide
Popularity

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of articles on outstanding presidential candidates written for The Appleton Post-Crescent and NEA Service by Robert Talley. This article continues the story of Senator James A. Reed, which will be concluded tomorrow.

BY ROBERT TALLEY
Washington—For nearly a decade before his historic clash with Woodrow Wilson over the League of Nations in 1919, Jim Reed of Missouri had been a member of the U. S. Senate, but the country had heard comparatively little of him until then. It was then that Reed's inherent ability as a fighter manifested itself, to be met by that of Wilson, who was no less uncompromising, himself. Reed won insofar as the league proposal was defeated in the Senate, but his battle made him tremendously unpopular with a large part of his party, climaxed by the refusal to allow him a seat at the Democratic national convention at San Francisco in 1920.

OPPOSES LODGE
It has been said that the bitter opposition of Senator Lodge—the cultured, scholarly and sensitive leader of the anti-league Republicans—was bred of wounded vanity, following Wilson's failure to take him as a delegate to the Versailles peace conference. But no such considerations motivated Reed; a stern Andrew Jackson type of Democrat, he was content to "seeing up any government that would be greater than our own."

After his first election to the Senate in 1910, Reed had fought for lower tariffs, championed the direct election of senators and helped unseat Senator Lorimer (Rep. Ill.) on charges of fraudulent election in 1912. He supported William Howard Taft in the crisis of 1914, on the Adamson eight-hour law and stood with him on the bulk of pre-war measures.

Reed voted for war and, as he afterwards said, voted for "every dollar, every man, every ship and every gun the president asked to carry on the war."

CLASH ON RESERVE ACT
Their first real clash came on the federal reserve act, which had been rushed through the House at Wilson's insistence. Reed, however, demanded hearings in the Senate and succeeded in making 563 amendments to the bill before it was finally passed. Reed refused to vote for the Panama canal toll bill, despite Wilson's plea. They broke again when Reed blocked Wilson's nomination of Thomas D. Jones to the Federal Reserve Board, charging that Jones was allied with the "harvesting historians" who write the story of that widening breach and what followed, they will probably say that both Reed and Wilson were equally sincere. They doubtless will explain that each had the ability to explain bitterly, and that in the game of hating Wilson was the equal to Reed.

In 1919, Wilson came back from Europe, riding on the crest of a world-wide wave of popularity that few men in history have enjoyed and bringing with him his cherished League of Nations covenant for adoption by the Senate.

For a time it seemed inevitable that it would be accepted. Wilson's tremendous prestige seemed certain to carry it over. But there were a few U. S. senators who had their doubts about the matter of "setting up a government superior to our own." One of these was Jim Reed, a Democrat of the Andrew Jackson school. His Americanism was of the flaming, bristling, independent kind that flourished at the frontier. His opposition to the League of Nations was something instinctive; he could not possibly have been for it, had Wilson wooed him with all the honeyed words in the dictionary.

MAKES FIERY SPEECH
The battle raged in the Senate. "I decline," Reed shouted in a fiery speech late in 1919, "to help set up any government that is greater than that established by my fathers, greater than that baptized in the blood of patriots from the lanes of Lexington to the forests of the Argonne, greater than that sanctified by the tears of all the mothers who have sustained their sons in the trenches of the world. I have gone down to death to sustain its glory and its independence. I decline to help set up any government greater than the government of the United States of America!"

Reed—admittedly one of the greatest orators who ever sat in the capitol—was at his best that day, the fires of passion and duty burning hot within him.

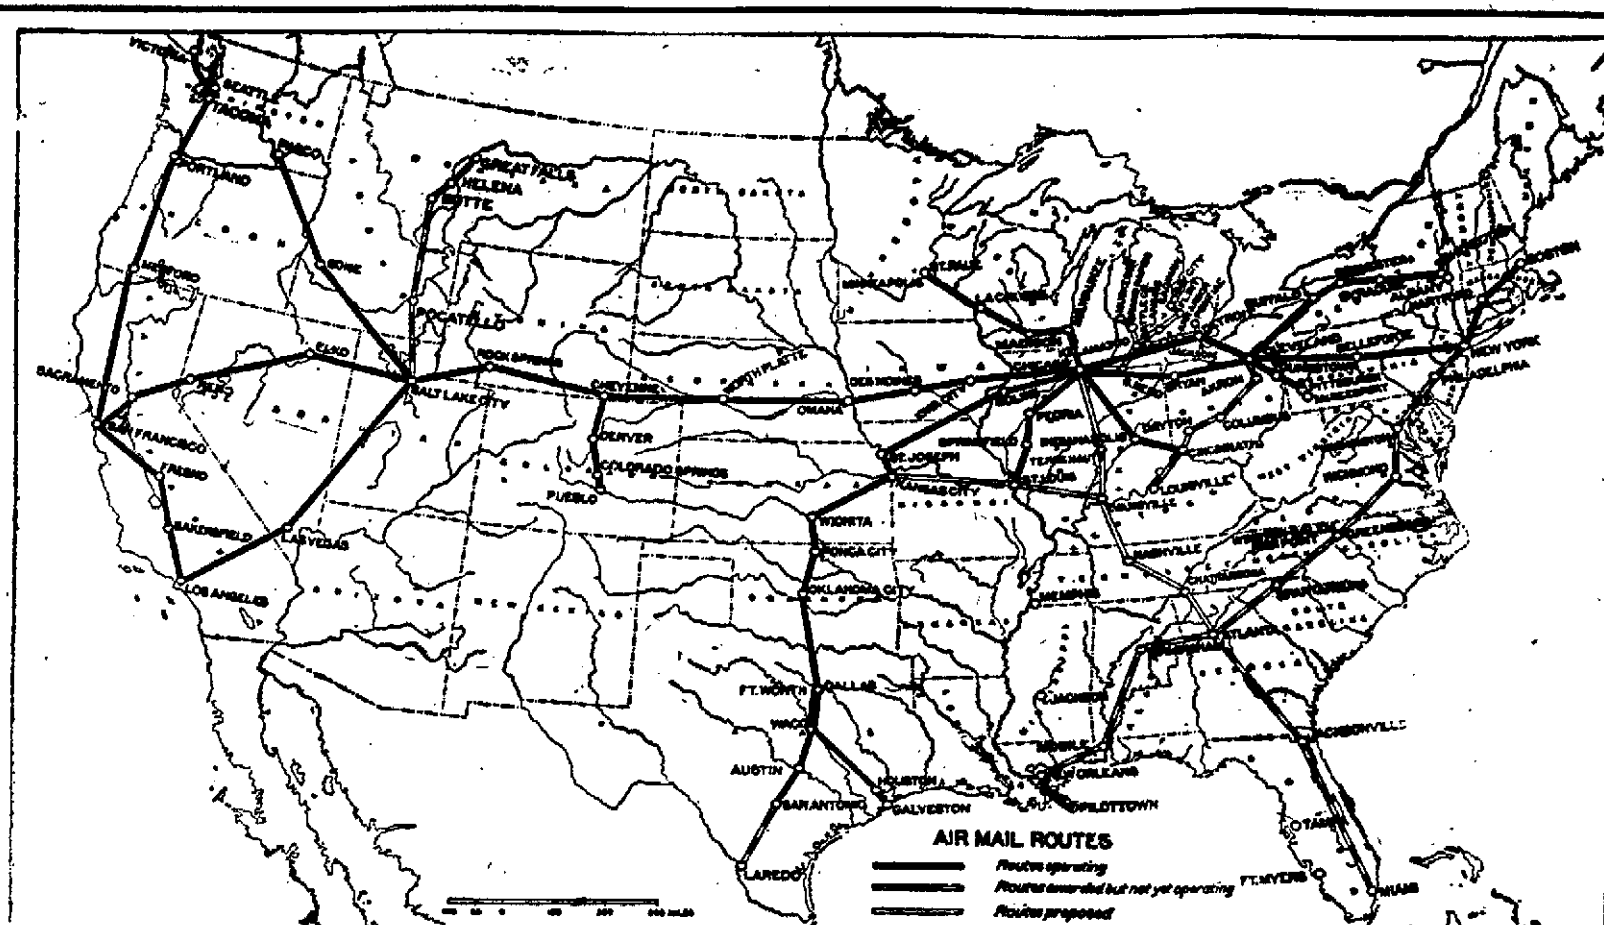

It was a speech that Washington still remembers. It shattered the staid gravity of the Senate; cheers resounded through the galleries, soldiers waved their caps and even senators leaped to their feet and applauded. To address them and branded him as "a traitor who ought to be shot." The Missouri legislature likewise refused to let him speak before it and throughout that state "Rid Us of Reed" clubs were formed.

There were threats of physical violence more than once, but Reed was never molested. Maybe his iron courage explains why. At a little town in the backhills of the Ozarks, Reed was warned that he might be shot if he made his speech, but Reed went. He spoke in the crude little town hall and after he had finished he looked at his audience in silence for a full minute and then said: "I am going to walk down the middle aisle of this hall and if anyone wants to shoot me, let him fire away. Then I'm going to my room in the hotel across the street. The door will be open and visitors will be welcome. Coolly he walked down the aisle between the dark-faced mountaineers; coolly he crossed the street and went to his room, where, true to his promise, he left the door wide open. He was not molested.

RECEIVED THREATS
Threats of physical violence were not the only dangers that Reed faced in those days, however. Woodrow

THIS MAP SHOWS HOW AIR MAIL IN U. S. IS GROWING

How the spider-webbed routes of the United States Air Mail are steadily spreading over the country is graphically indicated in this new map, recently released by the Post Office Department.

Wilson, who could exorcise an enemy as sharply and skillfully as any man called a traitor. When Jim Reed fights he fights the way, so he carried his battle to the people with a number of speaking engagements throughout the country. He was at odds with Wilson, unpopular and even hated by millions of his party, assailed as a "traitor" on many sides—but when Reed fights he throws no cream-puffs. At Ardmore, Okla., they threw rotten eggs at him, cut off the electric lights and a near-riot ensued. In Birmingham, Ala., he was told that he might be mobbed if he made his address. In North Carolina, the legislature canceled an invitation for him in history, turned all the fire of its eloquence on the Missourian. Wilson's cry of "Marplot!" is still remembered.

The League of Nations plan was beaten, as everybody now knows, and it seemed also that the political career of Jim Reed had been wrecked forever in the same crash. The worst insult of all came when the Democrats barred Reed, a senator, from their San Francisco convention in 1920.

Before Reed—in 1922—lay his race for reelection for another six-year term. A man less courageous, less determined and less able might have given it up as hopeless and retired.

WOULD CHANGE STATE GIRLS INDUSTRIAL HOME

Madison—(P)—A three weeks, inspection trip among the penal and correctional institutions of eastern states has strengthened Miss Harriet Grim, member of the state board of control, in her belief that the proposed Wisconsin Industrial home for girls should be located in or near a large community, rather than isolated from community contacts. Miss Grim presented a report of her Legion Carnival and 5 Cent Dance at Kimberly Club House, April 11-12-13.

Woodrow Wilson was no longer president, but the shadow of Wilson's bitter hatred for him still hung over Reed like a shadow from a tombstone. But Jim Reed "came back." Despite Missouri's "Rid Us of Reed" clubs, despite Wilson's appeal to the voters, he ran for reelection in 1922 and was returned by 48,000 majority. How he did it is another story.

TOMORROW: Jim Reed "comes back."

There's Real Medicine Now For Stubborn, Hang-On Coughs

When nothing seems to do that lingering, die hard cough any good, just go and get a bottle of Broncholine Emulsion. Take this REAL cough medicine as directed and notice how easily and speedily it overcomes that persistent, obstinate cough, that has caused you many sleepless nights, and miserable days. It's a medicine compounded for the purpose of conquering tough, hang-on coughs, that cheap ordinary syrups can't touch and that's exactly what it does—quickly and thoroughly. There is no dope in Broncholine Emulsion, nor chloroform, nor sugar—such things are only makeshifts and should be taken with the greatest caution. For ordinary coughs two doses of Broncholine Emulsion is usually enough. Ask Probst Pharmacy, 504 West College Ave., about it or any progressive druggist.

Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1932 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin. Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers. Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

inspection to the board of control at its meeting Wednesday. Among the more than a dozen institutions visited by Miss Grim, the work of the state girls school at Hudson, N. Y., most impressed her as offering an example of work which Wisconsin might well follow. The school is located in a community of 25,000 and is only an hour and a half from New York City. The girls of the school, Miss Grim says, are not kept isolated from the life of the community in which they live. They attend churches and theatres of Hudson, under supervision of school officials, and after less than 18 months attendance at school find work either in Hudson or in New York City. She points out that the girls are equipped through their training to achieve economic independence after they leave the school, and that many of them earn excellent salaries.

FARMERS OBJECT TO ORDERS GIVEN BY MILK INSPECTORS

THINK TESTS SHOULD DETERMINE PRICE TO BE PAID FOR PRODUCT

Farmers Say Inspectors Get "Hard Boiled" When Orders Are Not Obeyed

BY W. F. WINSEY

Milk inspectors must meet their ways or several dairymen in the vicinity of Appleton will no longer send their milk to Chicago markets, it has been indicated by the dairymen who object to the manner in which the inspectors reprimand them.

A good example of the methods now employed is given by W. H. Miller, R. 4, who said one of the men visited his farm about a month ago and inquired abruptly why he had not whitewashed his barn and built a milk house. Mr. Miller replied that he had not had time to build the milk house but the inspector refused to listen to further reason.

Otto Mossholder, R. 4, tells a story similar to that of Mr. Miller's regarding the visit of an inspector to his home. Mr. Mossholder, who is a cheesemaker of a wide and successful experience, and who has had much experience in handling milk, has agreed with the inspector who said that his methods did not meet with the requirements called for. Mr. Mossholder retorted that as long as he produced and delivered pure milk there was no ground for complaint or orders and that the only incentive for him to build a milk house would be additional pay for his milk.

No agreement was reached and since that time Mr. Mossholder set up equipment in his basement and began making cheese.

In the opinion of several milk producers in the vicinity of Appleton, if milk were graded in accordance with sediment and bacterial content tests in connection with butter fat tests and the average of all tests were made the basis of the price paid the producer, such important features as milk cooling houses, stable ventilation, sunlight, water supply, cement floors in stables and barnyards would take care of themselves, or at least each producer of milk would seek advice in sanitary methods of milk production instead of having it thrust upon him as now.

Like a business man or a manufacturer, the milk producer is perfectly willing to increase his investment for production, if he can be shown that his additional investment is to be the source of greater income. But if the milk producer is forced to add to his equipment and his profits from his investment are to decrease, he is as slow as the business man or the manufacturer in making contributions to such a hopeless cause.

Operating in dozen or more districts of the state of Minnesota, and up to Wisconsin, The Land O'Lakes Creamery, a farmers' cooperative institution, is paying milk producers on the basis of quality, which is determined by tests the Appleton milk producers have in mind. As price is the incentive for the production of best quality of milk in the territory of The Land O'Lakes Creamery, competition in the production of a superior quality of milk is strong. The plan works without the suggestion of orders, force retaliation, or threats.

One of the milk producers mentioned believes that nothing satisfactory to dealers in fluid milk and producers, can be accomplished until prices and quality of milk are made the subject of collective bargaining. According to H. Vint, commissioner of agriculture, a movement is on foot, backed up by the Pure Milk Association, to organize the fluid milk producers of the Wisconsin-Chicago belt.

Here And There Among The Farmers--

BY W. F. WINSEY

William H. Ziegert, route 4, Black Creek, says that he and number of other farmers in his vicinity are short of hay and grain for their dairy cattle. To cover the shortage as best they can, they are ordering their hay in Green Bay and the grain they need from Black Creek dealers. Despite short feed, a grade Guernsey cow of Ziegert's, seven years of age, produced 1,145 pounds of milk in March and 58.8 pounds of butter fat. With this record, the cow was second high cow in the Cicerio-Black Creek Herd Improvement Association for that month. As feed for his cattle the coming season, Mr. Ziegert has 15 acres of alfalfa, sweet clover and timothy pasture, 25 acres of red top and alfalfa, sweet clover and timothy meadow, and will have the usual acreage of oats, barley and corn.

Henry Lilje, route 4, Appleton, manager of the Central Valley Cooperative Association, says that the members of the association unloaded 1,500 bushels of oats, last Saturday at Central Valley, and 1,100 bushels of corn on Tuesday. On Saturday, March 7, the members unloaded a car of dairy rations. The sales of the year totalled $20,000. Last year the members of the association used two carloads of commercial fertilizer and will probably use three this year. Mr. Lilje says that the farmers in the vicinity of Central Valley are short on small grain and corn and have been for some time.

Walter H. Wiecek, route 4, Appleton, says that owing to a cold last summer being below normal and an increase in the size of herds, dairymen in his vicinity are short in oats, barley and corn as feed for their cattle and are buying these feeds in large quantities. These same dairymen have abundant supplies of hay and silage. He says that according to state reports, farmers of Wisconsin raised hay enough last summer to carry them through the coming season. Winter grain and clovers of all kinds have survived the winter and are in good condition according to Mr. Wiecek. He is to sow 15 acres of pedigreed, Velvet Bait this spring and seven other Outagamie county farmers are also to try the same kind of seed. He has 24 acres of sweet clover for pasture this summer and 30 acres of alfalfa. The fields are looking good. Last season he had 36 acres of sweet clover but he put 10 acres in the silo which he will feed this summer, and pastured 26 acres. He figures that an acre of sweet clover will supply pasture through the season for one and three-fourths cows, or at that rate.

Edward Sheehan, on the Morris Summers' farm, Askeaton, is the first farmer out in the fields plowing this spring. Mr. Sheehan began plowing good shape. He also has 20 acres of timothy, red clover and alfalfa pasture that is looking good at the present time. Mr. Tiedt intends to sow 8 acres of barley this spring and 31 acres of oats. He is to plant 16 acres of corn and 2 acres of potatoes. As he has a sufficient supply of barnyard manure each year, he is not using commercial fertilizer. His herd consists of 34 head of grade Holsteins, and he intends to milk 16 cows this summer. His milk goes to a creamery. Last season he raised 7 heifer calves but will raise 10 calves if possible this summer. The work on his farm is done with 6 horses.

Hugo Krueger, route 1, Appleton, recently completed a new porch on his residence and is doing considerable papering. Very soon, he is to begin shingling and painting his residence. He has 5 acres of new alfalfa seedling and 8 acres of alfalfa, and both fields are quite promising. He intends to sow 20 acres of corn and an acre of potatoes. He has 17 head of grade Holsteins and is milking 13 cows. He has four horses and 14 small and large hogs.

Otto Hankemeier, route 1, Appleton, who has been experimenting with gardening the past few years, is going into the business on a much larger scale this spring. His list of vegetables include cucumbers, pickles, sweet corn, tomatoes, carrots, potatoes and field beans. He intends to sow 10 acres of oats, 8 acres of corn for silo purposes, 2 acres of cabbage, and 2 acres of potatoes. He is to milk 8 cows this summer. He is to milk 8 cows this summer.

John Schmidt, route 1, Appleton, has 12 acres of old alfalfa seedling that came through the winter in good shape. He intends to sow 16 acres of oats, 15 acres of barley and to plant 16 acres of corn. Although Mr. Schmidt depends upon alfalfa pasture for his cattle, he never has any trouble with his animals' loadings. He says that before putting his cattle on the alfalfa pasture in the spring, he puts them on a good pasture and keeps them there for a time. After they become accustomed to this kind of pasture, he turns them into the alfalfa field. He leaves them in the alfalfa field day and night afterward. Mr. Schmidt is to sow 16 acres of oats and 15 acres of barley this spring. He also will plant 16 acres of corn. He is intending to plant his farm buildings and to do considerable fencing this spring.

STATE WANTS TITLE TO LAND IN 4 COUNTIES

Madison—(P)—Efforts to establish the state's title to approximately 700 acres of marsh land in Vilas, Iron, Sawyer and Bayfield counties is contained in an appeal made by the state land commission to the United States secretary of the Interior. The commission is appealing to him from a ruling made by the commission general of the federal land office.

Four or five years ago plats were made of the land which was made necessary by the changing meander line of marshes in those counties. The state commission holds that under the federal swamp land act of 1850 the land automatically goes to the state. The federal land office ruled that failure of the state to apply for title to the land within 90 days filing of the plats led to the state its title claim.

STEPHONI HERD IS HIGHEST FOR MONTH

Average Milk Is 931 Pounds and Average Butter Fat 30.6 Pounds

Black Creek—According to Paul Knudsen, manager of the Cicerio-Black Creek Herd Improvement Association, for February the high herd is owned by Arnold Stephoni. Twenty-two cows in the herd. The average milk was 931 pounds and the average butter fat was 30.6 pounds. The high cow is owned by Nick Rettler. She produced 1,450 pounds of milk and 65.3 pounds of butter fat.

The second high herd is owned by Claude Armitage. Thirteen cows are in this herd. The average milk was 722 pounds and average butter fat 30.3 pounds. The second high cow is owned by Barth Bros. She produced 1,125 pounds of milk and 63.1 pounds of butter fat.

For the month of March, Arnold Stephoni had high herd. The average milk was 1,110 pounds and the average butter fat 39.3 pounds. The high cow for the month of March is owned by A. W. Litzkow. She produced 1,192 pounds of milk and 59.8 pounds of butter fat.

The second high cow for March is owned by W. H. Ziegert. She produced 1,145 pounds of milk and 59.8 pounds of butter fat.

There are sixty-two 40 pound cows in the association, eight farms are operating milking machines, ten farms have electric lights and nineteen farms have registered pure bred herd sires.

The following is a list of owners, and cows having over 45 pounds of butter fat to their credit.

HOGS NEVER DIE OF AVIAN TUBERCULOSIS

Veterinarian Declares People Over Estimate Seriousness of Disease

Madison—(P)—The importance of avian tuberculosis as it affects swine is over-estimated by the public at large, according to Dr. B. A. Beach, Veterinarian at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

Although avian tuberculosis affects the throat glands of hogs, the disease in swine is not a progressive type, and the hogs never die from it. This means that the whole carcass of a hog is never condemned in a packing house, and the only loss to the producer or the packer is the head of the animal, which is valued at about 50 cents.

The primary importance of the disease, Dr. Beach believes, is the loss it causes to poultry flocks. Of the three forms of tuberculosis—human, bovine, and avian—avian is the most virulent, and the successful growing of chickens makes necessary efforts to eradicate it.

No means has been found, he points out, of stopping the disease in an individual hen; the way to rid the flock of danger of tuberculousness is to get rid of all hens which are afflicted.

This method is followed in Eastern states, where the older hens are sold off every fall. It would be a good practice, Dr. Beach believes, to get rid of hens a year and a half old, particularly if they show signs of avian tuberculosis.

Chicken tuberculosis became general throughout the state, he says, with the growing interest in pure bred flocks several years ago. In one county the agricultural agent has discovered that from 65 to 75 per cent of the flocks are affected.

Hens die rapidly when the flock is affected, Dr. Beach says. They become thin, lose their color, but continue to eat as much as when well, although their laying power is reduced. He points out that it is poor business policy to attempt to save the chickens after they are afflicted, although it might be advisable in the case of valuable pure bred flocks, since avian tuberculosis is seldom transmitted through the egg. However, the young chicks will pick up the disease from the hens, although they will not show it before they are 6 months old.

REMOVE SNOW FENCES FROM COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Practically all snow fence used to protect Outagamie-co highway during the past winter has been taken down, according to A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner. The lathe-type fence which can be rolled into bundles, is to be hauled to the county garage where it will be stored until next fall but the panel-type fence will be piled at the roadside.

THIS FARMER FEEDS ALL FARM PRODUCTS

Frank Miller Even Goes So Far as to Feed Skimmilk to Animals

BY W. F. WINSEY

Frank Miller, route 6, Green Bay, believes in feeding all the grain and hay that he raises on his farm to farm animals and farm birds. His only exceptions to this rule and practice is a field of potatoes and another field of cabbage raised each year. By feeding his crops on his farm he says he is able to save a large percentage of the lime, phosphorus and other elements, upon which crops feed, to the soil, to barnyard manure, and return it to the soil. If he sold the crops outright, as potatoes, cabbage, hay and grain are sold, he would in reality be selling the plant food in his soil and running the risk of exhausting his supply very early.

But in the conservation of soil fertility, Mr. Miller goes a step further. As there is considerable plant food and animal food in skimmilk, he separates his milk, sells the cream only and feeds the milk to his calves, hogs and chickens.

As he realized that with each animal he sold a considerable quantity of lime and phosphorus was removed from his farm, he lined one of his fields last fall as an experiment, and has sent samples of the soil from other fields to the College of Agriculture to be analyzed. If the analysis shows that any field is deficient in lime or phosphorus Mr. Miller may go farther in his experiments with fertilizers.

He is in the dairy business with a herd of 25 Holsteins including a pure bred sire and a few purchased cows. He is milking 22 cows. To grade his cows on a production basis, he is a member of a cow testing association. His highest cow produced last month, an average of 55 pounds of milk daily, testing 23 and 51.5 pounds of butter fat during the month. Cow No. 2, produced 56 pounds of milk testing 2.5 and 53.9 pounds of butter fat. Cow No. 4, produced 40 pounds of milk testing 3.8 and 45.6 pounds of butter fat. The average test of the herd of the herd was 3.10 and milk production was 36,140 pounds.

Hands Often In Water—Age Early

Dr. Campana, International Skin Specialist, Gives Advice

Hands that are frequently in water show signs of age long before they should. Water dries the skin by removing its natural moisture, leaving an otherwise soft, smooth skin in a red-dened, hardened condition. To overcome this, apply Campana's Italian Balm—just a drop or two—following each time your hands are in water. This skin softener restores the moisture and keeps the skin smooth, supple and white. Thousands of women pronounce Dr. Campana's discovery the finest skin aid they have ever used. Economical—thirty-five cents a bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed. At your drug or department store—adv.

THIS WOMAN'S HENS EITHER LAY OR ARE PLACED ON MARKET

Mrs. Frank Norris, Rt. 5, Green Bay, Won't Put Up With Loafers

BY W. F. WINSEY

Mrs. Frank Norris, route 5, Green Bay, is one of the successful poultry women of Brown-co. She has had lots of experience with chickens and has developed four hobbies, (1) The White Wyandotte breed, (2) Up to date equipment, (3) Constant culling of flock, (4) Winter egg production and the sale of old birds in the spring.

Four years ago Mrs. Norris built a new, modern coop, large enough to accommodate 200 hens. This coop is well lighted from the south, is warm and well ventilated with shutters, straw lot and attic. It is equipped with self feeders and other devices necessary in the rearing and care of flocks.

The Wyandotte breed is favored because she considers it the best, dual purpose breed. In winter this breed is on hand with the eggs, says Mrs. Norris. The birds of this breed mature very early, are loose feathered and can stand the cold. As they are yellow skinned with no black pin feathers, they take very well in the market, and on account of their weight and appearance, bring top prices. In ten weeks time broilers of this breed weigh two pounds.

The Wyandotte is a full breasted broiler and is never skinny. At one year of age the Wyandotte weighs five pounds, with no attempt at fattening, and at two years, if it lives that long, six pounds. Ifens of this breed lay as well as those of any other breed.

Occasionally Mrs. Norris has tried other breeds but invariably returns to her choice after each experiment. By reading all available literature on culling chickens and by watching state and local cullers at work in her flock and playing them with questions, Mrs. Norris has become an expert culler of chickens. She begins her work of culling as soon as she receives a shipment of chicks and is at it all the time. The lame chicks and the moping chicks are the first ones to go. As soon as a hen stops laying, it starts on the way to the market.

After heavy laying the past winter Mrs. Norris culled her flock of 100 birds down to 26. The 26 remaining hens are laying from 18 to 22 eggs daily. She culled her flock closely for two reasons, (1) The price of eggs is too low at this time of year to be attractive and (2) She wishes to give all her spare time to the rearing of broilers and a flock of next winter layers.

Her seasonal work in the rearing of chicks began for this spring ten days ago when she received a shipment of 380 chicks direct from an incubator. Beside giving her more time to attend her chicks and saving her the expense of feeding hens that were not laying, the marketing of her old hens gave room in her chicken coop for a brooder and runway for her chicks in rough weather.

Mrs. Norris sells her eggs at her door to private consumers and broilers and culled hens to dealers. She says that there is money in a farm flock of chickens of the ordinary size if the birds are selected and handled for money-making purposes. She has made it a rule to keep no sick hens in her flock and to feed no unproductive hen. She keeps nothing but workers that pay their way and a fair sized profit.

ST. NORBERT PIN TEAM WINS TITLE IN K. OF C. LEAGUE

Squad Wins Three Games While Closest Opponents Drop Two in Finals

Kaukauna — St. Norbert bowling squad ended the Knights of Columbus Bowling League on Wednesday evening by surprising local ten pin fans with a 3 to 0 victory over Creighton and a tie for first place with Notre Dame which led the loop until the final week. Notre Dame lost an opportunity to clinch the championship by losing to St. Mary's, opponents of sixth place. The defeat was as much of a surprise as St. Norbert's one sided victory. St. Francis strengthened its hold on fifth place by winning three straight from Holy Cross, the trio of defeats showing the latter into seventh, one place below St. Mary which moved up. To make the evening complete the tail-enders, Georgetown, rose up in full force and won 2 to 1 from the crack Marquette team.

Georgetown early in the season led the league but was soon displaced by Marquette which in turn was edged down by St. Norbert and Notre Dame about mid-season. The battle from then on was between St. Norbert and Notre Dame with the latter holding the advantage until the last week.

H. Minkbege of St. Norbert rolled a high series score of 599 and Herbert Haessly was second with 574. Lester Smith hit 566 for third. In single games Haessly shot 245, Smith 227 and Minkbege 220. The tie for first place will undoubtedly be rolled off early next week.

"HUGGER" IS FOUND CRIMINALLY INSANE AND SENT TO WAUPUN

Walter Wenzlaff Admits He Is the One Who Had Been Terrorizing Women

Adjudged criminally insane by a sanity commission in municipal court Wednesday afternoon, Walter Wenzlaff, 30, 117 S. Badger-ave, was sentenced to the state hospital for criminal insane at Waupun by Judge Theodore Berg. Wenzlaff confessed Tuesday to George T. Prim, chief of police, that he was responsible for attacks on women over the weekend.

Wenzlaff was arraigned before Judge Berg Wednesday morning but did not plead on the two counts charging assault with intent to rape. After his preliminary hearing was set for May 1 and his counsel asked for a sanity hearing.

Wenzlaff was sentenced in 1921 on a similar charge, to serve from one to seven years in the reformatory in Green Bay. He was pardoned in 1923 and in 1924 he was arrested again on a similar charge. He was ordered out of the county after his second arrest.

POSTPONE HORNER'S TRIAL TO APRIL 26

State Says Alleged "Fake" Doctor Treated Men for Diseases They Didn't Have

Trial of William M. Horner, 117 E. Harris-st, on a charge of practicing medicine without a license, scheduled for Thursday morning, was postponed until April 26. Several days ago the case was transferred to County Judge Fred V. Heinemann by Municipal Judge Theodore Berg on a writ of habeas corpus. The postponement was granted because Horner's counsel was unable to be in court Thursday.

Horner was arrested several weeks ago after several special investigators visited his office and were treated for diseases the state alleges they didn't have. It was Horner's fourth arrest for the same offense.

NEW PRESIDENT

W. O. Thiede, new president of the chamber of commerce.

W. O. THIEDE ELECTED C. OF C. PRESIDENT

Directors Name Homer Benton and Roy Marston as Vice Presidents

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce, at their meeting Thursday noon, elected W. O. Thiede, local merchant, president for the coming year.

Other officers elected were Homer Benton, first vice president, Roy Marston, second vice president and Kenneth H. Corbett secretary.

Mr. Thiede, a worker in the chamber of commerce since its organization eight years ago, has been identified with civic activities here.

Committees and their chairmen for the ensuing year will be announced at a general meeting to be held soon.

LOCAL MEN SPEAK AT AIR BOOSTER MEETING

Delegation of Six Flies to Menominee, Mich., and Helps Boost Airport

A delegation of Appleton men left Thursday morning in the "Fride of Appleton" for Menominee, Mich., where at noon and in the evening, they were scheduled to make addresses before a mass meeting for the purpose of stimulating aviation enthusiasm.

Those who made the trip were Homer Bowly, William Van Dant, Lin, George H. Schmidt, H. De Baufor, Karl M. Haugen and Eddie Merritt, pilot.

Menominee, selected as the northern terminal of the North American Airways company of this city, is attempting to establish an airport to cater for the airplanes.

"The proposition there is to obtain the aid of the city and county in purchasing the land. The proposed site is located on the lake and is available for land and sea planes. While the amount of land available at present is not as large as the aviators would require under adverse conditions, it is proposed to acquire additional land by pumping sand from the bottom of the lake and filling in an adjoining swamp.

Plan for Meeting
Arrangements for the annual meeting of Y. M. C. A. directors and officers in May, will be discussed by directors at a conference at 7:30 Friday evening in the association building. Routine business also will be discussed.

Miss Lillian Krueger is ill at her home in Center.

ROTARY HOPES FOR WORLD PATRIOTISM

President of Rotary International Tells About His Visit in Europe

A universal patriotism extending beyond national boundaries and making war impossible was described as the supreme hope of all Rotarians by Arthur W. Sapp, international president at a dinner in Milwaukee Wednesday night, attended by representatives of all Rotary clubs in the state. Earl F. Miller, secretary of the local Rotary club attended the meeting as Appleton representative.

The international plan would be based on a world-wide brotherhood of business and professional men, of which Rotary would be the nucleus, Mr. Sapp said.

"The next war, we are told by military experts, will mean annihilation," he said. "Who can say what will not be possible with aviation. I do not claim that Rotary is a panacea for all the ills of the world, but it can be one of the guiding influences to make the world see that fighting is no longer necessary."

Mr. Sapp recently returned from a tour of Europe as president of Rotary International and devoted a large part of his address to analyzing the attitude of European leaders to Rotary. He said that in some parts of Europe a Rotary card is sufficient to establish the bearer as a man of standing and enable him to obtain a visa without further trouble.

JANSEN PROTESTS ANOTHER BUS LINE

Little Chute President Kicks at Hearing on Application for Permit

Hearings on the applications of Edward Zeininger to operate a bus freight line from Neenah to Manitowish, through Appleton, and the application of William Schulze to operate a passenger bus line between Clintonville and Antigo were held before A. C. Johnson of the Wisconsin Railroad commission at the courthouse here Thursday morning.

Objections to the freight line were entered by Anton Jansen, president of the village of Little Chute, representing the town of Buchanan, and by W. C. Wilson, a representative of the Soo Line railroad.

Mr. Jansen and Joseph Lefevre, city attorney at Kaukauna, intended to object to operation through Little Chute and Kaukauna, but Mr. Zeininger amended his application to miss Kaukauna and Little Chute and operate from Neenah to Manitowish via Appleton.

There is no need for another freight line because the service presented now is adequate, was the plea made by Mr. Wilson of the railroad company.

HARWOOD HELPS PLAN FOR STATE CONVENTION

E. H. Harwood attended the meeting of the executive board of the Photographers Association of Wisconsin, Wednesday, at the Schroeder hotel in Milwaukee to help prepare plans and programs for the 1928 convention of the association in Manitowish in July.

C. D. Kaufman was the guest of the evening and spoke on advertising and illustrating. John Glanders of Manitowish, president of the association, also spoke.

Mr. Harwood has been a member of the association for twenty years and served as secretary for seven years.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Two marriage licenses were issued Thursday by John E. Hartsell, county clerk. They were given to Casper Phillips and Mary Elizabeth Hatch, Appleton; Lyle A. McGinnis and Rose Heilmann, route 4, Appleton.

"Quaker Curtain Week"

brings newest fashions in Quaker lace curtains

"National Quaker Craft Week" is being featured at Pettibone's with a complete display of Quaker filet net, shadow lace, silk net, and two-tone filet net curtains—all new spring styles. You may choose from ecru, cream, champagne and Egyptian shades and the curtains are sometimes fringed and sometimes bordered. All are 2 1/4 yards long.

The Smartest "Quaker" Curtain Is The New Tailored Style

A very new spring fashion in Quaker curtains is the "tailored" curtain made with a border down one side and across the bottom. As two are used to each window, the border appears complete in the pair. There is no fringe.

From $2 to $19.50
